BERLIN, Aug. 8.—A definite step to end the conflict with Austria, brought about by alleged Nazi interference in Austrian affairs, is Reichsleiter Hitler's first move in the international arena since he became complete master of Germany upon the death of President von Hindenburg.

The Hitler government's peaceful gesture will be made tonight when Gen. Werner von Blomberg, German minister of war, receives the former Austrian war minister, Prince Schoenborn-Hartenstein, who came to Germany to represent the Austrian government at the funeral of Von Hindenburg.

The prince commanded Austrian armies during the world war and the murdered Chancellor Dollfuss once served under him. He is known to be friendly toward Germany and today told International News Service:

"We must place our fate in German hands and work out our problems on this basis. We must not leave the work to non-Germans."

While he did not so state, his remark was interpreted to mean Austria preferred to solve her own problems without pressure from Germany.

Accept Von Papen.

Austria's approval of Vice Chancellor Von Papen as regularly accredited minister to Vienna, though not as special peace envoy of Hitler, has created a very good impression here and resulted in definite improvement of relations between Berlin and Vienna. Von Papen probably will go to Vienna on Friday.

Vienna's decision to accept Von Papen followed a conference yesterday between the vice chancellor and Count Thun, Austrian Catholic leader, who assured Von Papen that the new Schuschnigg government in Austria had definite German leanings.

ROCHESTER, Minn., Aug. 8.—
President Roosevelt came out of the parched plains of the west today, but the ever present problem of the drought followed him like some malignant spirit.

He crossed the Mississippi during the night. It is still the Father of Waters, but the lack of rainfall and moisture has perfectly diminished its virility. So much so in fact that a scheduled boat trip on the upper reaches of the river today had to be cancelled because there was hardly enough water to accommodate the venture.

Water Is Big Demand

Any lingering doubts that Mr. Roosevelt may have had about the drought being a national calamity have been dispelled since he left the Pacific coast a few days ago. All across the country through Oregon, Washington, Idaho, Montana, and North Dakota, the cry has been the same, federal aid to provide an adequate supply of water.

One of the most moving appeals the president has encountered was at Devil's Lake, North Dakota. Huge placards faced him everywhere, "Mr. President, you gave us beer now give us water." Unless water is forthcoming in a good part of the state

POTTSVILLE, Pa., Aug. 8.—Slowed in their delicate task by the ominous possibility of starting a new slide, rescuers inched their way into a "bootleg" coal hole here this afternoon striving desperately to save William Jones, jobless miner, from his underground tomb.

Expectations of getting Jones out by noon today—26 hours after he was trapped by a rock and dirt slide—failed when the rescue squads were forced to lessen their pace to protect both Jones and themselves from being buried alive.

Shouts To Rescuers

As they worked, the diggers were encouraged by Jones himself who has shouted through the earth and rock wall which imprisons him that he is "all right." He said he was able to see his rescuers through tiny crevices and cracks but they cannot see him.

An air tube has been shoved through to the man to prevent any possible suffocation.

Most of the night rescuers dug into the hole until they reached a point just a few inches from where Jones is pinned upright by his shoulder. Then they were forced to stop their rescue work to timber the wall of the hole they had made so that it would not cave in.

Then, while Jones warned them to proceed cautiously, they began again to try and dig into the miner and extricate him from the mass of stone and dirt which hold him prisoner.

ARREST CHAUFFEUR IN EXTORTION PLOT

Police Officers Trap Suspect

Report Man Has Bogus Money When Taken By Officers

NEW YORK CASE BELIEVED SOLVED

(International News Service) NEW YORK, Aug. 8.—A former chauffeur of Col. Henry Huddleston Rogers was under arrest today as police and detectives sought to unravel details of a $10,000 extortion plot against the Standard Oil millionaire.

The prisoner, John Cavaniga, 26, was arrested last night and narrowly escaped being shot when he grabbed the butt of a detective's revolver and begged him not to shoot him.

Had Bogus Money.

The one-time chauffeur, who was discharged when he almost struck a relative of the millionaire's in 1929, was taken into custody as he left a midtown tailor shop with a suitcase full of bogus money which had been left there four days ago as part of a police trap.

Col. Rogers, according to the police, received two letters, one mailed July 23 and one July 31. Each warned him to "do as we tell you if you love your wife" and instructed him to leave a suitcase with $10 bills at the tailor shop.

The suitcase, containing $10,000 in false money, was placed at the tailor shop last Friday. Over the weekend the police kept a careful watch and reported that twice Cavaniga entered the shop and asked if a suitcase had been left for him. In spite of an affirmative answer he walked out both times without claiming the bag, police asserted.

Last night, however, he took the suitcase.

life and drum corps of the Sons of Veterans, will leave the city building to parade the streets of the city, calling the attention of the residents to the fact that the day of the picnic is at hand.

At 1:30, all those taking part in the Old Timers costume pageant, will assemble at the pavilion, where they will register and will be given a number to identify themselves to the judges. They will then assemble for the parade about the pavilion, and after they have been judged, will parade outside the pavilion for the benefit of those who are not fortunate enough to procure positions inside.

This costume pageant is expected to prove one of the most interesting events which has ever been held in connection with Old Timers Day here, and the committee in charge, of which Mrs. C. J. Kirk is chairman, has been working hard to make this a reality.

Howard Morrison, of Pittsburgh, will direct the grand march which will follow at 2 o'clock.

Prizes For Costumes.

Three prizes will be awarded in connection with the Old Timers costume pageant, one for the best dressed couple; one for the best costumed lady, and one for the best costumed man.

According to the regulations adopted, all Old Timers in costume, will be admitted to the pavilion at 1:30. All others taking part in the grand march, will be admitted to the dance floor of the pavilion, while Old Timers and descendants who are not in the grand march will be admitted to the pavilion, but not to the dance floor.

There will be round and square dancing after the grand march for the Old Timers and their descendants. A competent caller has been secured to call the figures.

The Red Cross is being asked to furnish a first aid station and the Boy Scouts of the city will be asked to assist in carrying out the different arrangements at the park.

called upon to ratify his assumption of the presidency.

In fact the ministry of propaganda had opened its campaign only a few hours after Von Hindenburg had been entombed in the Marshal's tower of the great Tannenberg battle memorial.

Over the government radio the ministry of propaganda broadcast a phonograph record of the old field marshal's last public appeal to the German nation, when, in urging support of Chancellor Hitler in the referendum, that followed Germany's withdrawal from the League of Nations, he pleaded for German unity.

Many changes in the government diplomatic corps are also forecast as one of the first steps to be taken by Hitler, now that he is complete master of Germany, and intends to make a more forceful stand in foreign affairs, among these is the probable retirement of Dr. Hans Luther as ambassador to the United States.

An unprecedented number of voters will go to the polls for the Aug. 19 plebiscite, probably around 90 percent. The voters will be called upon next week to check the district election lists to see if their names are correctly registered.

Any native of Germany who is twenty years of age will be eligible to vote.

Penn Professor Is Being Sued For Heart Balm

Dr. John J. Campion, 55, Sued For $50,000 By Comely French Woman

(International News Service)

PHILADELPHIA, Aug. 8.—Arrested on a capias, Dr. John J. Campion, 55-year-old professor of modern languages at the University of Pennsylvania, today was under $800 bail to appear in court and answer a breach of promise charge.

The plaintiff, Miss Susanne Allemann, a comely French woman, alleges that Dr. Campion "broke a solemn promise of marriage" after he wooed and won her love. She seeks $50,000 to heal her "great mental anguish" but in her affidavit asserts "no amount of money can ever pay" for her wounded feelings.

Love Has Cooled

The arrest of Dr. Campion on a capias issued by Judge Eugene Allesandro revealed the alleged classroom romance. According to Miss Allemann, she met the professor when she entered one of his classes to study German about five years ago.

A deep friendship developed, she said, and it blossomed into romance after the death of Dr. Campion's wife in May, 1933. Last December he proposed marriage and the wedding date was set for August 20, Miss Allemann declared. During the past few months, however, the Professor's love cooled and on May 21 Dr. Campion was reported to have asserted he would never marry her.

Investigator Named

HARRISBURG, Aug. 8.—Isabel Kelly, field representative of the State Department of Welfare, today was ordered by Secretary Allesandro to investigate charges of cruelty at the Butler county home.

Mrs. Liveright said Miss Kelly will go to Butler "within a few weeks." She will make a report of conditions at the home immediately after her visit and Mrs. Liveright promised that the department would act under its powers to remove any "objectionable condition" found.

Law Ministers Protest

Butler, Pa., Aug. 8.—Three lay ministers of the gospel today raised their voices in protest against Fred C. Herold, superintendent of the Butler county home charged with brutalities to aged inmates.

T. A. Mail, Frank B. Sellers and H. G. Snyder, lay ministers of the Free Methodist church, and the Rev. Andrew Graham, of the Church of the Nazarene, had conducted services twice weekly in the home until Herold stopped them.

Herold charged the ministers had conducted "love orgies" at the home and added they were "quacks". Mail said:

"Sure we told love stories. Did you ever read the Bible? It's all one love story."

"But we didn't tell the kind he meant. And I've been in Butler long enough to know that I'm not a quack. His saying it doesn't make it so."

The others voiced similar opinions on the charges of Herold.

Tribute To Mayo.

The president had a brief respite today from dams, irrigation projects, power developments and the like. He came to Rochester to participate in a tribute to the Doctors Mayo, Will and Charles, whose clinic here has become world famous.

Gov. Floyd B. Olson, Minnesota's six foot hard-bitten executive, took time off from his striking troubles to journey to Rochester. Other governors scheduled to attend were Clyde U. Herring, of Iowa, Tom Berry of South Dakota and A. G. Schmedeman of Wisconsin.

Senators and congressmen from nearby states added to the official list.

Tomorrow will be spent in Wisconsin with a major speech scheduled for Green Bay. Then the president will return to Washington as speedily as possible. He has no engagements beyond Green Bay.

Recovery Administrator Returns From Mid-West; New Board Functions

(International News Service)

WASHINGTON, Aug. 8.—Recovery Administrator Hugh S. Johnson returned to his office today to see the opening operations of his newly created industrial appeals board.

The board was created to succeed President Roosevelt's ill-fated "Darrow review board", and instead of a rating independently of other recovery activities will deal with the press through the NRA press section.

The new agency is given a "break" at the outset by Johnson's action in releasing almost a score of different small businesses in communities of 2,500 population or less from the price-fixing and some of the other rigid restrictions of the various retail codes.

Will Draft Lists.

However the child labor prohibition and the fair trade practices of these codes remain in effect. NRA state directors will draft lists of localities in which the new exemption order will apply.

Three Police Cars Arrive

Will Be Placed In Service In Near Future, Haven Reports

Chief of Police Haven reported the arrival here today of the three new Oldsmobile automobiles which were purchased from the Rogers company several weeks ago. The cars have not yet been put in service but will be when the radios are installed in the car. Chief Haven also stated the radio system is ready for inspection and a federal inspection has been requested to inspect the local plant.

The present Buick will be kept for purposes of a patrol wagon. The Ford and Chevrolet and two motorcycles were accepted as part payment on the three new automobiles.

was made on the basis of an affidavit by Rev. William Brown, assistant pastor of St. Joseph's church, Albany. He said he was the "unclassified" person who telephoned Mrs. Antonio the night her husband was murdered, and told her that her husband had been injured in an automobile accident.

Governor Lehman has granted three reprieves to Mrs. Antonio, and to the two men, Vincent Saetta and Sam Faracci, convicted with her for the murder of her husband.

Governor Lehman alone stands between Mrs. Antonio and the death chair, and there has been no intimation from the chief executive that he will commute the woman's death sentence to life imprisonment.

Mrs. Antonio has three children, the oldest 11 and the youngest three.

With Saetta and Faracci she was convicted of murdering her husband, Salvatore, a railroad worker, so she could collect his $5,300 life insurance.

Report Man Has Bogus Money When Taken By Officers

NEW YORK CASE BELIEVED SOLVED

(International News Service) NEW YORK, Aug. 8.—A former chauffeur of Col. Henry Huddleston Rogers was under arrest today as police and detectives sought to unravel details of a $10,000 extortion plot against the Standard Oil millionaire.

The prisoner, John Cavanaugh, 26, was arrested last night and narrowly escaped being shot when he grabbed the butt of a detective's revolver and begged him not to shoot him.

Had Bogus Money.

The one-time chauffeur, who was discharged when he almost struck a relative of the millionaire in 1929, was taken into custody as he left a midtown tailor shop with a suitcase full of bogus money which had been left there four days ago as part of a police trap.

Col. Rogers, according to the police, received two letters, one mailed July 23 and one July 31. Each warned him to "do as we tell you if you love your wife" and instructed him to leave a suitcase with $10 bills at the tailor shop.

The suitcase, containing $10,000 in false money, was placed at the tailor shop last Friday. Many changes in the government diplomatic corps are also forecast as one of the first steps to be taken by Hitler, now that he is complete master of Germany, and intends to take a more forceful stand in foreign affairs, among these is the probable retirement of Dr. Hans Luther as ambassador to the United States.

An unprecedented number of voters will go to the polls for the Aug. 19 plebiscite, probably around 90 percent. The voters will be called upon next week to check the district election lists to see if their names are correctly registered.

Any native of Germany who is twenty years of age will be eligible to vote.

Penn Professor Is Being Sued For Heart Balm

Dr. John J. Campion, 55, Sued For $50,000 By Comely French Woman

(International News Service)

PHILADELPHIA, Aug. 8.—Arrested on a capias, Dr. John L. Campion, 55-year-old professor of modern languages at the University of Pennsylvania, today was under $800 bail to appear in court and answer a breach of promise charge.

The plaintiff, Miss Susanne Allemann, a comely French woman, alleges that Dr. Campion "broke a solemn promise of marriage" after he wooed and won her love. She seeks $50,000 to heal her "great mental anguish" but in her affidavit asserts "no amount of money can ever pay" for her wounded feelings.

Love Has Cooled

The arrest of Dr. Campion on a capias issued by Judge Eugene Alessandrini revealed the alleged classroom romance. According to Miss Allemann, she met the professor when she entered one of his classes to study German about five years ago.

A deep friendship developed, she said, and it blossomed into romance after the death of Dr. Campion's wife in May, 1933. Last December he proposed marriage and the wedding date was set for August 20. Miss Allemann declared. During the past few months, however, the Professor's love cooled and on May 21 Dr. Campion was reported to have asserted he would never marry her.

PLAN FOR PROBE AT BUTLER HOME

February, 1933, and it was scheduled for another visit in October or November.

Investigator Named

Harrisburg, Aug. 8.—Isabel Kelly, field representative of the State Department of Welfare, today was ordered by Secretary Alice F. Livright to investigate charges of cruelty at the Butler county home.

Mrs. Liveright said Miss Kelly will go to Butler "within a few weeks."

She will make a report of conditions at the home immediately after her visit and Mrs. Liveright promised that the department would act upon next week to check the district election lists to see if their names are correctly registered.

Any native of Germany who is twenty years of age will be eligible to vote.

Lay Ministers Protest

Butler, Pa., Aug. 8.—Three lay ministers of the gospel today raised their voices in protest against Fred C. Herold, superintendent of the Butler county home charged with brutalities to aged inmates.

T. A. Mail, Frank B. Sellers and H. G. Snyder, lay ministers of the Free Methodist church, and the Rev. Andrew Graham, of the Church of the Nazarene, had conducted services twice weekly in the home until Herold stopped them.

Herold charged the ministers had conducted "love orgies" at the home and added they were "quacks." Mail said:

"Sure we told love stories. Did you ever read the Bible? It's all one love story."

"But we didn't tell the kind he meant. And I've been in Butler long enough to know that I'm not a quack. His saying it doesn't make it so."

The others voiced similar opinions on the charges of Herold.

Tribute To Mayos.

The president had a brief respite today from dams, irrigation projects power developments and the like. He came to Rochester to participate in a tribute to the Doctors Mayo, Will and Charles, whose clinic here has become world famous.

Gov. Floyd B. Olson, Minnesota's six foot hard-bitten executive, took time off from his striking troubles to journey to Rochester. Other governors scheduled to attend were Clyde U. Herring, of Iowa, Tom Berry of South Dakota and A. G. Schmedeman of Wisconsin.

Senators and congressmen from nearby states added to the official list.

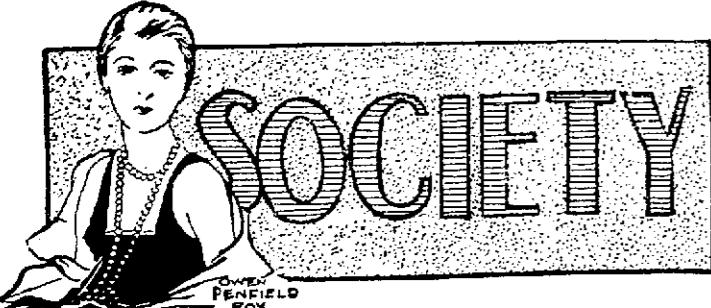

Tomorrow will be spent in Wisconsin with a major speech scheduled for Green Bay. Then the president will return to Washington as speedily as possible. He has no engagements beyond Green Bay.

The Rev. Dr. Charles M. Boswell, Methodist Episcopal minister, has been designated to officiate at the rites. Interment will be made in the Vare Mausoleum at Laurel Hill cemetery.

MISS BETTY HOUSTON WEDS RUSSELL TAIT

LUNCHEON EVENT IN CRAWFORD HOME

One of the loveliest of the summer weddings was that of Tuesday afternoon at the home of the bride's parents, Park avenue, where Miss Elizabeth Houston, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Houston, became the bride of Russell Tait, son of Mr. and Mrs. James Tait of Mercer.

The impressive ring ceremony united the couple being performed at 2:30 by Dr. C. J. Williamson of Pittsburgh, a cousin of the groom's, before an embarkment of ferns and flowers in the presence of a group of relatives and close friends.

The bride was charmingly gowned in white point d'esprit and lace over white satin, fashioned with a long full skirt with uneven hemline; her corsage was formed of white rose buds and orchids.

As the couple entered the living room Mrs. Jay L. Reed played the Bridal Chorus from Lohengrin, and during the ceremony, the soft strains of "I Love You Truly" and "At Dawning" were heard. Miss Margaret Graham played during the congratulatory period.

Mrs. Tait is a graduate of the New Castle high school, class of '27, and Mr. Tait graduated from Mercer high in '25, after which he attended Edinboro State Teachers college and then taught school for a while. He is at present employed by the F. and R. Transfer company of Zelienople.

Mr. and Mrs. Tait left after the ceremony for an eastern trip, the bride being becomingly gowned in a white and coral knitted suit with matching accessories. Upon their return the groom's parents have planned a reception in their honor.

After September 1 they will be at home in their newly furnished apartment at 136 Park avenue.

Out of town guests included: Dr. and Mrs. C. J. Williamson and daughter, Lois, Pittsburgh; Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Tait, David and Rachel Tait, Anne Williamson, Helen McClelland, Arthur Courtney and Clayton Swickard of Mercer; Dr. and Mrs. C. S. Shoaf, Plain Grove; Mr. and Mrs. Harry Clark, Grove City; Mr. and Mrs. Hugh Stevenson, Farrell, and Mr. and Mrs. Willard Dilley of Erie.

FORMER LOCAL GIRL TO WED AUGUST 26

SUBER HOME IS RECEPTION SCENE

Tuesday evening Mr. and Mrs. E. J. Suber of Bell avenue entertained at a reception in honor of their son and wife, Mr. and Mrs. Morton Suber, who were recently married, having been Ruth Suder.

More than 50 guests were received in the home, which was most attractive with summer flowers arranged in baskets and bows about the rooms. Music throughout the evening was presented by the Davis trio and the guests enjoyed dancing and bingo.

The newly-weds were showered with many lovely gifts to be used in their housekeeping.

Aides in serving the very delicious and daintily appointed menu were Mrs. John Foster, Miss Dell Davidson, Mrs. H. E. McCaskey and Mrs. J. Clyde Gilfillan.

In the afternoon, bridge was the pastime with high score awards falling to Mrs. Maurice A. McLure and

Mrs. E. A. Fenton. From out of town were Mrs. H. C. Phillips of Pittsburgh and Mrs. J. W. Stewart of

MURKIN

NEEDS AN UNDERPASS

ANOTHER life has been added to the toll of the crossing at Harlansburg. Another bad accident testifies to the fact that although this crossing is well guarded by signs it still remains one of the most dangerous in the county.

When the Perry Highway was built it was suggested that an underpass on the Harlansburg Road would obviate any possibility of accident at this point. Instead, approach wings were put in to move traffic in and out of the Perry, away from the main crossing.

These approach wings and the stop signs have not removed the hazard. It makes little difference that some of the accidents in the past have been caused by stupidity or reckless driving, the fact is lives have been lost.

The topography at this point would make it comparatively easy to underpass the road and thus remove forever the chance of collisions at the crossing. It should be done for whatever the cost, the saving of one life would more than offset it.

SUICIDES ON INCREASE

One hundred and twenty thousand lives snuffed out in 10 years. Not by disease or accident, but by suicide. And the problem is growing worse.

The national suicide rate is now about 20 per 100,000 of population. The highest rate was 21.5 in 1908; the lowest, 12.3, in 1920.

We are thus confronted with a national problem of no small magnitude, and it is no small thing to contemplate that 120,000 persons have voluntarily ended their existence during a decade.

The suicide problem is not one of preventing these tragically rash and insane acts after a financial crash and during periods of business depression and unemployment. When the suicide rates for a period of years are correlated to business failures, there is a fair consistency in the correlation. Human nature dares risk all in a gamble but lacks the courage to face adversity.

Eternal vigilance on the part of friends and relatives of those under mental distress, further progress in the study of the mind and a voluntary slowing up of modern life accompanied by less frenzied finance and "plunging" are about the limit of our powers in suicide prevention.

NATION ON-THE-GO

It was foretold last winter that this was going to be a great travel year, but as the season advances the figures become more impressive. The travel industry is having the most active year since 1929, when almost everybody felt rich.

Millions are being spent in this country by citizens dashing all over the map in their own motor cars, in railroad trains, busses, boats and airplanes. They camp out and they stop at hotels, and they spend gaily for food and fun and fuel as they go.

More people would travel at home this year, it was said, because of the unsettled conditions in Europe. More people are traveling at home, but travel to foreign countries is from 10 to 15 per cent ahead of last year.

Traveling is pretty much on cash basis. Very few travelers go into debt for vacation expenses. All of which means that the millions spent on this form of recreation are going into and out of pocket books and cash registers rather briskly and wholesomely.

AMERICA'S SAFETY VALVE

However great the weaknesses of democracy may seem in a time of crisis, it is hard to escape the impression that the bloody troubles of Europe today arise in large part because of the denial of democracy. Austria, swept by the repercussions of an assassination ominously similar to that of Franz Ferdinand 20 years ago, is simply the most recent example.

For the underlying cause of such disorders is the fact that ordinary democratic processes have been suspended. Racked and torn by cross-currents of passion, resentment, and despair that have been in the making ever since the war, the central European peoples have no way of expressing themselves but with guns.

Germany furnished an object lesson a few weeks ago. Discontent with the way the Nazi policies were working out came to a head and demanded expression. No peaceful means of expression was possible.

Men could not argue their cause, they could not propagate by means of newspapers and magazines, they could not look forward to a chance to use ballots. The machine gun and the revolver became their only recourse—and so, inevitably, the government had to use the same implements in replying to them.

Now it is Austria's turn and the same kind of thing happens. Instead of a political campaign, with speeches, pamphlets, advertisements, and so on there must be a "putsch" with bombs, gunfire, assassinations, and all the rest. There is no other possible outlet for discontent.

Democracy has its weaknesses, great and glaring, some of them, for which we often pay a heavy price. But it does make it possible for people to get rid of a government, a party, or a policy which they do not like, in a peaceful and orderly way. It lets every man have his say about the state of affairs about him; it makes the appeal to force unnecessary.

We need to keep this constantly in mind. There are people in this country who profess an admiration for dictatorship—whether proletarian, Fascist, or whatnot—on the ground that democracy is inefficient and unwieldy.

One look at the woes of Germany and Austria is enough to show that democracy's benefits are almost infinitely greater than its drawbacks.

Yet many a man thinks he is tolerant when he is merely afraid to invite comparison.

You can't expect much reform while people forgive a bad man if he's a good fellow.

But if the home-coming congressman hasn't been prodigal, all he gets is cold shoulder.

There is much complaint about the weather, but there would be more if there weren't any.

Don't try to ruin your enemy. Just get him a job handling public money and let nature take its course.

It is much easier to be humble if you have the power to smash anybody who takes advantage of it.

If Europe didn't owe the United States $25,000,000,000, on which the interest hasn't been paid, would it be easier to start another war?

SPEECH TO A MAN WHO ASKS ME TO MAKE A PROMISE

NO. MY GOOD sir, I will NOT make a promise.

No, I tell you I will not! You ask me to make you a promise. I tell YOU you do not trust me. If you trusted me, you would not try to bind me with words. You would leave me free. You would ask me only to be myself, to do as I feel in my heart that I should do. You would not degrade and stultify this bond between us with any feeble promise.

So again I say I will NOT promise.

If I promised, I would break that promise...I might wear it gladly for a little while, as a vow, as a dear obligation...But soon it would irk me, make me restless. I would begin to ask myself what right you or any other man might have to lay this galling burden upon shoulders, upon my mind, upon my heart, my spirit. Soon I would find myself brushing it away as frantically as a savage in the jungle escapes the coils of the constrictor...And even if I did try it, soon I would find myself hating you for your foolishness and hating myself for allowing you to lay this restriction upon me.

No, I shall not promise!

Even though this thing you wish from me were the thing I wished most to do, I would find it hateful. Virtue would become a poison, decency a tyrannical duty. And I would deny my own better impulses in order to achieve my own independence. Poor fool me! And worse fool, you, because you think any other human being can be tethered and saved by the words that shape a promise.

No, no. Again I shout, no promises!

You say I am mad? Very well, then I AM mad. But sir, I wish to be free as the birds which fly where they list free as the giant trees, which stand rooted for a lifetime, free as the sweet stream that makes and follows its own channel to the sea...None of these makes any promise, none is asked to make any; but each does what it must, lives as it should...And I too, being a man, and you, too, being human, should do the same...making no promises, demanding none, being ourselves.

REPAY YOUR SOCIAL OBLIGATIONS.

If you cannot afford to entertain, or if for other reasons it is quite impossible, don't accept invitations.

Each time you are a guest at the home of a friend or an acquaintance you become socially indebted to that person.

It is an obligation you should feel as obliged to pay as one of a financial nature.

A possible exception might be presented when a wealthy person included you in a guest list because of a friendly feeling for you.

You are not expected to do so. Knowing that the cost is beyond your means, you would lose all pleasure in functioning as a host.

But it is different in your own social clique.

You are expected to return in like manner favors received.

the new taxes fall? That is the chief question business now asks. All who earn, whether corporations or individuals, soon will have to pay much heavier taxes next year.

Yet England has very heavy taxes—and business in England seems good. A visitor returning from England said: "Theaters, restaurants, night clubs are crowded. It is nothing to spend $25 in a London night club."

A RECORD

Pictures that recently appeared in this paper established a record. They were pictures from Vienna.

In order to be speeded to this paper a record had to be set. And that was the record:

The express liner Bremer, from Europe, usually catapults a plane with mail when a day out of New York. The farthest that plane has flown hitherto has been 754 miles on a day in June. This time, however, the plane was catapulted at 7 a. m., 802 miles at sea, and arrived in New York at 3 p.m. that afternoon. That is a world's record.

What is to prevent passenger planes from being catapulted in the future from decks of express liners? That would mean crossing the ocean in less than four days, London or Paris to New York.

ENGLAND'S VIEW

Thomas F. Woodlock of the Wall Street Journal is visiting England.

He makes an interesting commentary on British labor's view of American labor. Here it is:

"The leaders of labor on this side of the water (England) have never concealed their contempt for our own labor chiefs as a whole, whom they regard as quite immature in their thinking and in their methods, and, therefore, relatively impotent.

The fact that fully 85 per cent of the American skilled labor is outside the 'regular' union organizations, is, they hold, evidence that this contempt is justified.

"This judgment is, of course, sup-ericial in that it takes no account of the tremendous difference that there is between the conditions, historical, physical, and, above all, psychological, in the two countries. Our company unions, for example, which include in their membership a good third, at least, of our skilled workers, are almost unknown in this country.

"Anything on our side that seems to show real fighting ability and good strategy is consequently of immense interest to labor men here. The 'general strike' is recognized here as a genuinely 'revolutionary' measure."

FLOODS

Floods are not uncommon following severe droughts.

For one thing, floods prove more severe following a drought because uncultivated loose soil provides a reader avenue for heavy rains to become converging torrents.

Lack of forests, of course, is one of the chief reasons for waters accumulating too quickly.

AL SMITH COMING BACK

Alfred E. Smith, by making a fight for a reform charter for New York City, has leaped to the fore once more as a New York hero. Hand in hand with such notable reformers as Mayor Fiorello H. La Guardia and Judge Samuel Seabury, he has given battle to the old line Tammanyites, than which there are no harder.

Furthermore, Tammany will bow once more to the candidacy of Governor Herbert H. Lehman. Al Smith's friend and chief donor to his presidential campaigns.

The only thing hampering Smith recently was his move up Fifth avenue to an apartment house inhabited exclusively by ultra-rich. Al has 13 rooms and six baths there, a far cry from his old home on Oliver street on the East side.

The move was made this time from a pent-house on lower Fifth avenue, hardly less exclusive than the new place, but less conspicuously exclusive.

TODAY Is The Day

WEDNESDAY, AUGUST 8

The War 20 Years Ago Today—August 8, 1914—Germany's prized South African possession, Togoland, a territory the size of Ireland and the only one of her colonies to be self-supporting—is seized by British in a notable coup carried out entirely by neighboring authorities with troops on the spot when the war began—a campaign unique in this respect.

(Germany's hunger for colonies was, of course, a basic cause of the war; and Germany entered it with the particular idea of putting her half in a position to acquire French possessions.) Detachment of her South American and Far Eastern dominions in the first month was one of the worst blows struck of her morale during the entire conflict.

Paris is rejoicing this day over news of the advance of the 14th division under Gen. Cure into Muhldhausen in Alsace, with bands playing and flags unfurled. The man in the street is assured.

"The Germans are on the run, the war will be over in a few days, and Alsace-Lorraine will be our again. Vive in France!"

No one, anywhere, suspects that four long years of war are ahead.

Great Days—August 8, 1745—The ducking-stool went out at fashion, perhaps unfortunately. This date provides the last instance on record of its use as an instrument of justice, in England. The ducked was a woman alehouse keeper in London who couldn't keep her tongue out of her customer's affairs. A crowd of 3,000 gathered on the banks of the Thames to enjoy herd immersion and shout to bailiffs to give her more.

Men Are So Busy Trying To Keep Their Business On A Paying Basis That The Fun Doesn't Start Any More Much Before Sundown.

It was imported from England by the Delaware and Hudson R. R., a year before the first locomotive was built in the U. S. Because it was too heavy for the tracks being used then, it had to be taken out of service.

Exactly two years later to the day, the first commercially successful American-built steam locomotive, the Dewitt Clinton, runned 17 miles between Albany and Schenectady, N. Y., on an epochal trip. Clothes of women passengers were set afire by the shower of sparks from its pine-fed firebox!

August 8, 1829—First locomotive in the U. S. The Stourbridge Lion, had its first test with one Oliver Evans, pioneer U. S. railway builder at the throttle, and was found to be too big for American use! (It weighed seven tons.)

There are times when a body has to think big. Like our favorite political philosopher, the late Uncle Joe Cannon. Uncle Joe was telling Chauncey M. Depew about a fish he had almost caught.

"About the size of a whale, wasn't it?" asked Mr. Depew, softly.

"I was baitin' with whales," answered Uncle Joe.

NEEDS AN UNDERPASS

ANOTHER life has been added to the toll of the crossing at Harlansburg. Another bad accident testifies to the fact that although this crossing is well guarded by signs it still remains one of the most dangerous in the county.

When the Perry Highway was built it was suggested that an underpass on the Harlansburg Road would obviate any possibility of accident at this point. Instead, approach wings were put in to move traffic in and out of the Perry, away from the main crossing.

These approach wings and the stop signs have not removed the hazard. It makes little difference that some of the accidents in the past have been caused by stupidity or reckless driving, the fact is lives have been lost.

The topography at this point would make it comparatively easy to underpass the road and thus remove forever the chance of collisions at the crossing. It should be done for whatever the cost, the saving of one life would more than offset it.

SUICIDES ON INCREASE

One hundred and twenty thousand lives snuffed out in 10 years. Not by disease or accident, but by suicide. And the problem is growing worse. The national suicide rate is now about 20 per 100,000 of population.

The highest rate was 21.5 in 1908; the lowest, 12.3, in 1920. We are thus confronted with a national problem of no small magnitude, and it is no small thing to contemplate that 120,000 persons have voluntarily ended their existence during a decade.

The suicide problem is not one of preventing these tragically rash and insane acts after a financial crash and during periods of business depression and unemployment. When the suicide rates for a period of years are correlated to business failures, there is a fair consistency in the correlation. Human nature dares risk all in a gamble but lacks the courage to face adversity.

Eternal vigilance on the part of friends and relatives of those under mental distress, further progress in the study of the mind and a voluntary slowing up of modern life accompanied by less frenzied finance and "plunging" are about the limit of our powers in suicide prevention.

NATION ON-THE-GO

It was foretold last winter that this was going to be a great travel year, but as the season advances the figures become more impressive. The travel industry is having the most active year since 1929, when almost everybody felt rich.

Millions are being spent in this country by citizens dashing all over the map in their own motor cars, in railroad trains, busses, boats and airplanes. They camp out and they stop at hotels, and they spend gaily for food and fun and fuel as they go.

More people would travel at home this year, it was said, because of the unsettled conditions in Europe. More people are traveling at home, but travel to foreign countries is from 10 to 15 per cent. ahead of last year.

Traveling is pretty much on a cash basis. Very few travelers go into debt for vacation expenses. All of which means that the millions spent on this form of recreation are going into and out of pocket books and cash registers rather briskly and wholesomely.

AMERICA'S SAFETY VALVE

However great the weaknesses of democracy may seem in a time of crisis, it is hard to escape the impression that the bloody troubles of Europe today arise in large part because of the denial of democracy. Austria, swept by the repercussions of an assassination ominously similar to that of Franz Ferdinand 20 years ago, is simply the most recent example.

For the underlying cause of such disorders is the fact that ordinary democratic processes have been suspended. Racked and torn by cross-currents of passion, resentment, and despair that have been in the making ever since the war, the central European peoples have no way of expressing themselves but with guns.

Germany furnished an object lesson a few weeks ago. Discontent with the way the Nazi policies were working out came to a head and demanded expression. No peaceful means of expression was possible.

Men could not argue their cause, they could not propagandize by means of newspapers and magazines, they could not look forward to a chance to use ballots. The machine gun and the revolver became their only recourse—and so, inevitably, the government had to use the same implements in replying to them.

Now it is Austria's turn and the same kind of thing happens. Instead of a political campaign, with speeches, pamphlets, advertisements and so on there must be "putsch" with bombs, gunfire, assassinations, and all the rest. There is no other possible outlet for discontent.

Democracy has its weaknesses, great and glaring, some of them, for which we often pay a heavy price. But is does make it possible for people to get rid of a government, a party, or a policy which they do not like, in a peaceful and orderly way. It lets every man have his say about the state of affairs about him; it makes the appeal to force unnecessary.

We need to keep this constantly in mind. There are people in this country who profess an admiration for dictatorship—whether proletarian, Fascist, or whatnot—on the ground that democracy is inefficient and unyielding.

One look at the woes of Germany and Austria is enough to show that democracy's benefits are almost infinitely greater than its drawbacks.

Yet many a man thinks he is tolerant when he is merely afraid to invite comparison.

You can't expect much reform while people forgive a bad man if he's a good fellow.

But if the home-coming congressman hasn't been prodigal, all he gets is cold shoulder.

There is much complaint about the weather, but there would be more if there weren't any.

Don't try to ruin your enemy. Just get him a job handling public money and let nature take its course.

It is much easier to be humble if you have the power to smash anybody who takes advantage of it.

If Europe didn't owe the United States $25,000,000,000, on which the interest hasn't been paid, would it be easier to start another war?

SPEECH TO A MAN WHO ASKS
ME TO MAKE A PROMISE

NO. MY GOOD sir, I will NOT make a promise.

No, I tell you I will not! You ask me to make you a promise. I tell YOU you do not trust me. If you trusted me, you would not try to bind me with words. You would leave me free. You would ask me only to be myself, to do as I feel in my heart that I should do. You would not degrade and stultify this bond between us with any feeble promise.

So again I say I will NOT promise!

If I promised, I would break that promise... I might wear it gladly for a little while, as a vow, as a dear obligation... But soon it would irk me, make me restless. I would begin to ask myself what right you or any other man might have to lay this galling burden upon shoulders, upon my mind, upon my heart, my spirit. Soon I would find myself brushing it away as frantically as a savage in the jungle escapes the coils of the constrictor... And even if I did try it soon I would find myself hating you for your foolishness and hating myself for allowing you to lay this restriction upon me.

No, I shall not promise!

Even though this thing you wish from me were the thing I wished most to do, I would find it hateful. Virtue would become a poison, decency a tyrannical duty. And I would deny my own better impulses in order to achieve my own independence. Poor fool me! And worse fool, you because you think any other human being can be tethered and saved by the words that shape a promise.

No, no. Again I shout, no promises!

You say I am mad? Very well, then I AM mad. But sir, I wish to be free as the birds which fly where they list free as the giant trees, which stand rooted for a lifetime, free as the sweet stream that makes and follows its own channel to the sea... None of these makes any promise, none is asked to make any; but each does what it must, lives as it should... And I too, being a man, and you, too, being human, should do the same... making no promises, demanding none, being ourselves.

ORIGIN OF OUR POLICE

Some form of police protection has been in existence almost from the day the first colony of white people landed on American soil. Constables, with powers and duties similar to those in England, were established in the early townships and the Dutch established a system of watchmen in New York about 1656. Massachusetts gets the credit for the first move towards an organized police force because of a system of nightwatchmen provided for unprotected towns in 1699. A day watch, called a ward, was later established. A distinctive uniform was adopted by New York and Philadelphia in 1856 and to them goes the honor of having the first uniformed police force.

Republicans To Name Successor For Vare's Job

Face Delicate Task In Naming Man To Fill Place On National Committee

MANY NAMES ARE BEING MENTIONED

By G. EVERETT DOYING
International News Service Staff Correspondent

HARRISBURG, Aug. 8.—The sudden death Tuesday in Atlantic City of William S. Vare leaves the Republican state committee with a delicate task of selecting his successor on the national committee at its September meeting to ratify the party platform committee.

Even while the news of Vare's sudden and unexpected death spread through the Capitol, speculation started over who would be named to the place on the national committee to which the Philadelphia boss was named in 1933, succeeding Jay Cooke.

Half a dozen names were suggested and all of them might conceivably threaten to plunge Pennsylvania's Republicanism back into bickering factionalism which the present leadership has in some measure overcome.

Grundy Mentioned

The name of Joseph Grundy, a power for years in the Pennsylvania manufacturers association and "new overseer" of the party since last June's reorganization of the Philadelphia and state committees, was first mentioned.

The possibility that national chairman Henry P. Fletcher might be given the added honor of committee membership was another suggestion, in rapid-fire order, then, came these names.

United States Senator David A. Reed, candidate for re-election; former governor John S. Fisher, and former state chairman Edward Martin.

Friends of Martin insisted it would be wise party strategy to name him to the post because he acquiesced in stepping down from the state chairmanship in June when opposition to his leadership was rife.

Politicians on "the hill" thought naming Reed would strengthen his candidacy for re-election.

Martin was boomed for the national committee membership that body met in Chicago earlier this year and was reported that Vare planned to retire. Vare did not quit his post, however, and instead he sent his brother-in-law to the convention to vote his proxy.

Mrs. Marjorie Worthington Scranton, of Scranton, is the state's national committeewoman.

Regardless of those who may develop into candidates, it was agreed that the state committee faces no easy task in selecting Vare's successor to the committee at the September meeting expected to be held in Pittsburgh. It was pointed out that there is probably no eligible candidate who would not face opposition from some faction of the party.

Will Resurface Fourteen Streets In Grove City

(Special To The News)
GROVE CITY, Aug. 8.—Grove City Council let a contract at the last Monday night meeting of that body for the re-surfacing of 15 Grove City streets with a bituminous top dressing at a cost of 448 cents per foot.

The cost is to be borne by the property owners along the right of way. The contract calls for the improvement of 11,642 feet of street and is awarded to the Hull Resurfacing Company of Butler who were low bidders in a field of six competing companies.

The streets are those improved under the CWA program. A stone base with gravel top is the present road status. Work will start at once on this re-surfacing program which calls for the improvement of Terrace, East Pine, Summit, East Poplar, Walnut, Garden, Stockton, Euclid, Mill, Chestnut, West Poplar, McConnell, Rainey, Princeton, Munroe. Three other streets will be added conditional to the signing of property owners to defray the cost of the top dressing. Work starts at once on the streets with the hope of getting the work completed by fall.

Rearrange Files For New State Program

Employment Office Clerical Job Is Preliminary To Fall Work Plan

Preparatory to the inauguration on or about September 1 of a new work relief program throughout Pennsylvania, one designed along a somewhat different plan than either the CWA or RWD, the federal-state employment office here had its staff engaged today in the organization of a new registration filing system which will probably be uniform throughout the nation.

Under the proposed system, the files of the employment office and the Lawrence County Emergency Relief office will be exact duplicates or very close to it and the employment office and relief office will know precisely what unemployment and relief conditions exist.

While nothing definite as to the new work relief plan has been announced at Harrisburg, it is thought that within a short time the entire new set-up of work relief will be described.

"This does not mean that we have more jobs to give out," spoke up R. L. Meersman, the employment office supervisor, fearful that mention of the change in files would start applicants into his office. "It is merely a switch in our filing methods."

Former Local Resident Recovering From Recent Injuries In Youngstown

Local friends will be interested in learning that Claud Spurrier, son of Mrs. May Spurrier, former local resident, has been removed to his home in Niles, O., from a Youngstown hospital, where he has been a patient for four weeks, recovering from the effects of a compound fracture of the left leg, received in a fall on Ryan avenue, Youngstown. Claud, who is 14 years of age, is a student at Washington Junior High School in Niles, and makes his home with his grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Womeldorf, also former residents of this city.

It was feared at first that the youth's leg would have to be amputated, but expert surgical care resulted in saving the injured member. He will be forced to remain in bed for some time yet, however.

But I drive the FORD V-8

RECENT survey in a large city shows that 65 percent of all Ford V-8's sold are bought by people who could afford higher priced cars.

The preference for the Ford V-8 is clearly not a matter of price but a matter of car. And here are the reasons . . .

The Ford V-8 is built like an expensive car. It has a V-type engine—the only V-type engine in a car priced under $2,500. The type of engine that holds every world's speed record.

And the Ford V-8 is a roomy car. In V-type engine construction the cylinders are in two mental ease of proved strong axle construction.

Will Resurface Fourteen Streets In Grove City

(Special To The News)
GROVE CITY, Aug. 8.—Grove City Council let a contract at the last Monday night meeting of that body for the re-surfacing of 15 Grove City streets with a bituminous top dressing at a cost of 44¢ cents per front foot.

The cost is to be borne by the property owners along the right of way. The contract calls for the improvement of 11,642 feet of street and is awarded to the Hull Resurfacing Company of Butler who were low bidders in a field of six competing companies.

The streets are those improved under the CWA program. A stone base with gravel top is the present road status. Work will start at once on this re-surfacing program which calls for the improvement of Terrace, East Pine, Summit, East Polar, Walnut, Garden, Stockton, Euclid, Mill, Chestnut, West Poplar, McConnell, Rainey, Princeton, Munroe. Three other streets will be added conditional to the signing of property owners to defray the cost of the top dressing. Work starts at once on the streets with the hope of getting the work completed by fall.

Rearrange Files For New State Program

Employment Office Clerical Job Is Preliminary To Fall Work Plan

Preparatory to the inauguration on or about September 1 of a new work relief program throughout Pennsylvania, one designed along a somewhat different plan than either the CWA or FWD, the federal-state employment office here had its staff engaged today in the organization of a new registration filing system which will probably be uniform throughout the nation.

Under the proposed system, the files of the employment office and the Lawrence County Emergency Relief office will be exact duplicates or very close to it and the employment office and relief office will know precisely what unemployment and relief conditions exist.

While nothing definite as to the new work relief plan has been announced at Harrisburg, it is thought that within a short time the entire new set-up of work relief will be described.

"This does not mean that we have more jobs to give out," spoke up R. L. Meermann, the employment office supervisor, fearing that mention of the change in files would start applicants into his office. "It is merely a switch in our filing methods."

town

Local friends will be interested in learning that Claud Spurrier, son of Mrs. May Spurrier, former local residents, has been removed to his home in Niles, O., from Youngstown hospital, where he has been a patient for four weeks, recovering from the effects of a compound fracture of the left leg, received in a fall on Ryan avenue, Youngstown.

Claud, who is 14 years of age, is a student at Washington Junior High School in Niles, and makes his home with his grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Womeldorf, also former residents of this city.

It was feared at first that the youth's leg would have to be amputated, but expert surgical care resulted in saving the injured member. He will be forced to remain in bed for some time yet, however.

But I drive the FORD V-8

A RECENT survey in a large city shows that 65 percent of all Ford V-8s sold are bought by people who could afford higher priced cars.

The preference for the Ford V-8 is clearly not a matter of price but a matter of car. And here are the reasons:

The Ford V-8 is built like an expensive car. It has a V-type engine—the only V-type engine in a car priced under $2,500. The type of engine that holds every world's speed record.

And the Ford V-8 is a roomy car. In V-type engine construction the cylinders are in two banks of four each, rather than in a line. Thus engine space becomes body space.

Luxury? The Ford V-8 gives it to you in full measure. With fittings of rustless metal. With rich, tasteful upholstery. With the riding ease of free action for all four wheels, and the mental ease of proved strong axle construction.

Republicans To Name Successor For Vare's Job

Face Delicate Task In Naming Man To Fill Place On National Committee

MANY NAMES ARE BEING MENTIONED

By G. EVERETT DOYING
International News Service Staff Correspondent

HARRISBURG, Aug. 8.—The sudden death Tuesday in Atlantic City of William S. Vare leaves the Republican state committee with a delicate task of selecting his successor on the national committee at its September meeting to ratify the work of the party platform committee.

Even while the news of Vare's sudden and unexpected death spread through the Capitol, speculation started over who would be named to the place on the national committee to which the Philadelphia boss was named in 1933, succeeding Jay Cooke.

Half a dozen names were suggested and all of them might conceivably threaten to plunge Pennsylvania's Republicanism back into bickering factionalism which the present leadership has in some measure overcome.

Grundy Mentioned

The name of Joseph Grundy, a power for years in the Pennsylvania manufacturers association and "new overseer" of the party since last June's reorganization of the Philadelphia and state committees, was first mentioned.

The possibility that national chairman Henry P. Fletcher might be given the added honor of committee membership was another suggestion, in rapid-fire order, then, came these names:

United States Senator David A. Reed, candidate for re-election; former governor John S. Fisher, and former state chairman Edward Martin.

Friends of Martin insisted it would be wise party strategy to name him to the post because he acquiesced in stepping down from the state chairmanship in June when opposition to his leadership was rife. Politicians on "the hill" thought naming Reed would strengthen his candidacy for re-election.

Martin was boomed for the national chairmanship when that body met in Chicago earlier this year and it was reported that Vare planned to retire. Vare did not quit his post, however, and instead he sent his brother-in-law to the convention to vote his proxy.

Mrs. Marjorie Worthington Scranton, of Scranton, is the state's national committeewoman.

Regardless of those who may develop into candidates, it was agreed that the state committee faces no easy task in selecting Vare's successor to the committee at the September meeting expected to be held in Pittsburgh. It was pointed out that there is probably no eligible candidate who would not face opposition from some faction of the party.

Sponsors of the idea claim that the cost of the project would not exceed a million dollars and that this would be amortized over a period of years by tolls.

Sponsors of the idea are particularly enthusiastic over such a tunnel for winter use. It would eliminate the annual hazard of icy hills and would provide motorists with quick, easy and safe transportation from the North Hill to downtown or vice versa.

According to the men now favoring such a tube or tunnel, this idea was projected in New Castle many years ago but fell through for lack of funds. At that time the dangers large share of the cost of the schools and thus relieve real estate from part of its heavy tax burden if the Legislature would pass the graduated income tax bill that I have recommended. This tax would yield at least $10,000,000 a year for schools, and property taxes could be reduced by that amount.

If the people who write to me urging the State to carry half the cost of our schools would devote their energies to seeing to it that only people who are in favor of the State income tax and in favor of reducing real estate taxes are sent to the House of Representatives and the State Senate, they would get ahead much faster.

A State income tax is the only practical solution to the problem that has as yet been put forth for shifting the burden of the school from the property taxpayers, who in many cases do not have the income to pay the taxes, to those who are able to pay taxes.

The problem of financing our schools will never be fully solved until two reforms are put into practical effect. The first of these is changing over from our present haphazard system of assessing real estate for taxation to a uniform State-wide equalized system. It is bad enough to make real estate bears 32 per cent of the total school budget, but it is worse when the money is not collected fairly and equitably.

The second thing is to reduce the number of school districts. We have far too many now. Millions of dollars could be cut off our annual school cost through the consolidation of school districts without sacrificing a nickel's worth of service to the children.

Petty politics seems to be all that keeps this needless load on the backs of the taxpayers. We now have 2532 school districts in as many cities, boroughs, and townships. Each school board has its secretary, treasurer, tax collector, and auditors, and most of them have legal representatives. Each one of these must be paid, except in about 650 districts where school directors have been wise enough to get sound banks to act as treasurer for little or no fees. Even though some of these boards have no schools and no teachers, these officers still get their share of the taxpayers' money.

Should you go on carrying this unnecessary load?

PLAN RWD WORK

MERCER, Aug. 8.—Drawing up of the RWD program for winter work in the Mercer community is to be collaborated by the city council and a committee of the Civic Club.

The plan was the proposal at the meeting of the club just held which went on record as endorsing a substantial program. Many of the projects that will be included have been started or are already drawn and acted on. Several new ones will be included.

Oppose Diversion
Of Tax On Gas

Alarmed over the possibility of a diversion of gasoline taxes for relief work in the state, the Pennsylvania Motor Federation has issued a pamphlet under the caption of "Diversion, What Does It Mean to You, Mr. Motorist?"

The pamphlet attacks the proposal to divert motor money into other channels on the ground that the motor money was pledged to the use of the motorists in the building and maintenance of highways. It draws attention to the work provided through highway sources and concludes by urging a square deal for the motorists.

MERCER, Aug. 8.—The county commissioners have applied for only $150,000 of the $200,000 in PWA funds granted them at this time. They have made up a budget of $120,000 for bridge building and $30,000 for road building. The construction of a lateral road into Stoneboro is planned. Eight bridges have already been contracted for building or repair. Nine more will be let soon. The officials plan the building or repair of 50 bridges.

Wilmington

(Special To The News)

NEW WILMINGTON, Aug. 8.—The Borough Council held the regular session Monday night in the Municipal building on Vine street. Regular monthly bills were ordered paid and some time was spent discussing matters pertaining to the borough is now paying the New Wilmington Water company for fire protection, also matters regarding the local swimming pool, however, no final action was taken in either case.

Will of the late Margaret Doherty of Harmony Junction has been admitted to probate at the register and recorder's office. Under the will decedent's husband, Edward Doherty is to have her property for life. At his death it is to be sold and the proceeds divided equally, between William P. Doherty, a son, Mrs. Anna D. Veon and Mrs. Julia Vogt, daughters, and Edward J. Doherty, Jr., a grandson, being the son of Edward J. Doherty, deceased.

J. Norman Cochran has presented a petition to court asking a reduction in the amount he was to pay Jane Cochran for the support of their minor son, Keller Cochran. The petition sets forth that on August 7, 1928, the court made an order directing Cochran to pay $4 per week. At that time Cochran was working for Patrick Scanlon and was making from $8 to $10 per day. At present he is making only a fraction of that amount. It is also claimed that their son is not being kept by Mrs. Cochran, but is kept by Mr. and Mrs. Senheiser, who are making no demands for his support. The court issued a rule on Mrs. Cochran to show cause why the petition should not be granted. F. is returnable on August 13.

Under one of the latest rules of the Home Owners Loan corporation the applicant for a loan must make an affidavit that he or she has applied at two or three places for a

What Is Going On
In Harrisburg—
And Why

By GIFFORD PINCHOT
Governor of Pennsylvania

I have received a number of letters recently urging that the State bear 50 per cent of the cost of our public schools.

A lot of people seem to think that all we would have to do would be to pass a law to that effect and the money would drop down like manna from Heaven.

Figures often make dull reading. But let's analyze this proposition.

The total cost of our public school system is approximately $188,000,000 every year. If the State were to carry half of that cost the State would have to put up $94,000,000 every year for schools. The State is now paying approximately $80,000,000 a year, which would leave $64,000,000 for us to find in order to pay half the cost of the schools.

These are big figures, but this is what they mean: The General Fund receipts for one year are approximately $77,000,000. If we take out the $30,000,000 for schools that is now being paid, we have $47,000,000 left for the operation of the State Government. But in order to pay the whole school bill we would have to find not $47,000,000 but $64,000,000.

In other words, if we closed up the Capitol, closed up our penitentiaries and turned all the criminals loose; closed up the insane asylums and turned all the lunatics out; closed up all our hospitals and sanatoria and let the ill and helpless shift for themselves; fired all the State Police; stopped all the State services to farmers, to labor, and to industry; and even stopped collecting taxes; if we did all these things we would still be $17,000,000 short of paying half Pennsylvania's annual school bills.

That shows as graphically as I can picture it the absolute impossibility of the State bearing half the cost of our schools under our present set-up.

But there is at least a partial way out. The picture is not quite so black as all that. The State could bear a large share of the cost of the schools and thus relieve real estate from part of its heavy tax burden if the Legislature would pass the graduated income tax bill that I have recommended. This tax would yield at least $10,000,000 a year at schools, and property taxes could be reduced by this amount.

A State income tax is the only practical solution to the problem that has as yet been put forth for shifting the burden of the school from the property taxpayers, who in many cases do not have the income to pay the taxes, to those who are able to pay taxes.

The problem of financing our schools will never be fully solved until two reforms are put into practical effect. The first of these is changing over from our present haphazard system of assessing real estate for taxation to a uniform State-wide equalized system. It is bad enough to make real estate bear 63 per cent of the total school budget, but it is worse when the money is not collected fairly and equitably.

The second thing is to reduce the number of school districts. We have far too many now. Millions of dollars could be cut off our annual school cost through the consolidation of school districts without sacrificing a nickel's worth of service to the children.

Petty politics seems to be all that keeps this needless load on the backs of the taxpayers. We now have 2582 school districts in as many cities, boroughs, and townships. Each school board has its secretary, treasurer, tax collector, and auditors, and most of them have legal representatives. Each one of these must be paid, except in about 550 districts where school directors have been wise enough to get sound banks to act as treasurer for little or no fees. Even though some of these boards have no schools and no teachers, these officers still get their share of the taxpayers' money.

Should you go on carrying this unnecessary load?

PLAN RWD WORK

MERCER, Aug. 8.—Drawing up of the RWD program for winter work in the Mercer community is to be collaborated by the city council and a committee of the Civic Club.

The plan was the proposal at the meeting of the club just held which went on record as endorsing a substantial program. Many of the projects that will be included have been started or are already drawn and acted on. Several new ones will be included.

Three score and four persons were arrested on a charge of drunkenness during the month of July according to police reports but actually liquor was concerned in more than that number of arrests. In addition to the 64 arrested on the plain charge of "drunk" there were 16 who faced a twin charge of being drunk and having become disorderly. Three more were jailed because they were drunk enough to resist an officer and two operators of cars were incarcerated and held for court on a charge of driving while under the influence of liquor.

On Court House Hill

Charles Reno of Wampum was a court house visitor yesterday. Mr. Reno is an old time teacher, having taught in the schools of the county over forty years ago.

Collections by County Treasurer William O. Pitts on Monday amounted to $406.16 which was distributed as follows: County, $258.26; state, $18.75, and poor, $129.14.

Letters testamentary in the estate of the late Susanna J. McCown of Enon have been granted by Register and Recorder, William R. Hanna, to Clarence Marshall.

Preliminary papers on a mortgage foreclosure by the First National Bank of Ellwood City, use Norman P. Mortensen against Emil D. and Tina Alfonso of Ellwood City have been placed in the hands of Sheriff Edward D. Pritchard. The amount of the mortgage is $2,418.76.

An appeal from the decision of Alderman L. C. Mantz has been filed by the defendant at the office of Prothonotary R. M. Campbell, in the case of Jacob Levin against the Cudahy Packing company. Judgment in favor of the plaintiff for $55.77 was rendered by the alderman in an automobile accident case.

Motion for judgment for want of a sufficient affidavit of defense has been made in the case of the Temple Building company against Warren V. Massaro, executor in the estate of Vincenzo Massaro and David G. Massaro, non-resident executor. The case involves a dispute over a bill for $236.25.

Petition for specific performance of a contract has been presented to court in the case of Charles G. Martin, executor in the estate of the late John L. Smith of Bessemer. Under an article of agreement made before his death Mr. Smith had agreed to sell 75 acres of land to Harry C. Smith and Nevada H. Smith, for $6,040.90. It was asked that the executor be permitted to make a deed for the farm in accordance with the article of agreement, and the petition was granted.

Will of the late Margaret Doherty of Harmony Junction has been admitted to probate at the register and recorder's office. Under the will decedent's husband, Edward Doherty, is to have her property for life. At his death it is to be sold and the proceeds divided equally, between William P. Doherty, a son, Mrs. Annie D. Veon and Mrs. Julia Vogt, daughters, and Edward J. Doherty, Jr., a grandson, being the son of Edward J. Doherty, the deceased.

Norman Cochran has presented a petition to court asking a reduction in the amount he was to pay Jane Cochran for the support of their minor son, Keele Cochran. The petition sets forth that on September 7, 1928, the court made an order directing Cochran to pay $4 per week. At that time Cochran was working for Patrick Scanlon and was making from $8 to $10 per day. At present he is making only a fraction of that amount. It is also claimed that their son is not being kept by Mrs. Cochran, but is kept by Mr. and Mrs. Seneheiser, who are making no demands for his support. The court issued a rule on Mrs. Cochran to show cause why the petition should not be granted. The case is returnable on August 13.

Under one of the latest rules of the Home Owners Loan corporation the applicant for a loan must make an affidavit that he or she has applied at two or three places for a loan and has been refused. The new order is giving applicants considerable additional trouble as they don't know of any place where they would be likely to get a loan, but must make the request anyway.

Council And School Board
Have Sessions At New
Wilmington

(Special To The News)

NEW WILMINGTON, Aug. 8.—The Borough Council held the regular session Monday night in the Municipal building on Vine street. Regular monthly bills were ordered paid and some time was spent discussing matters pertaining to the rate the borough is now paying the New Wilmington Water company for fire protection, also matters regarding the local swimming pool, however, no final action was taken in either case.

ROTARY MEETING

The local Rotary club held its regular weekly meeting on Monday evening with a goodly number of members in attendance. H. R. Paton, business manager of Westminster, was the speaker, taking as his subject, "Business Cycles."

In his address Mr. Paton touched on business conditions during the past 100 years, and his talk was highly interesting as well as instructive.

SCHOOL BOARD MEETS

The regular monthly meeting of the borough school board was held Monday night in the office of Principal Whitman. Regular business was transacted and the board decided to finish the work at the rear of the school building which was formerly a CWA project and was left uncompleted by this organization.

BACK OF THE SYMBOL

WHEREVER you see this sign, the whole nation is at hand—within your reach.

Back of this symbol are a million people—the people who own and the people who operate the telephone business of the nation. They are the Bell System.

With their families, if all lived in Pennsylvania, they would constitute a city the size of Philadelphia, plus an Allentown, an Altoona, an Erie, a Harrisburg, a Reading, a Scranton, a Wilkes-Barre and, in addition, two cities as great as Pittsburgh.

The owners have invested savings—an average of $3,000 each—in Bell System securities. The workers have invested their effort and ability in the telephone industry. More than a hundred thousand have done both—workers who are share-holders in the telephone business.

BACK of that emblem is a telephone plant—well built, well maintained, adequate, and rendering the finest telephone service in the world.

Back of the symbol is the Bell Telephone Laboratories, birthplace of telephone invention and development.

Back of it is the Bell System headquarters organization, where nation-wide telephone experience is studied, co-ordinated, and made available to all parts of the system.

BELL owners and Bell workers are in every section of the state and nation. They are your friends, your neighbors, interested in things civic, in their government, in the telephone business.

By the service you know it best. To the encouragement of your fullest and most exacting use of that service the telephone organization devotes itself.

THE BELL TELEPHONE COMPANY OF PENNSYLVANIA

Associated with the Bell System—participating in and benefiting from the telephone research, telephone development and nation-wide telephone experience which have given America the world leadership in telephone service.

BACK OF THE SYMBOL

WHEREVER you see this sign, the whole nation is at hand—within your reach.

Back of this symbol are a million people—the people who own and the people who operate the telephone business of the nation. They are the Bell System.

With their families, if all lived in Pennsylvania, they would constitute a city the size of Philadelphia, plus an Allentown, an Altoona, an Erie, a Harrisburg, a Reading, a Scranton, a Wilkes-Barre and, in addition, two cities as great as Pittsburgh.

The owners have invested savings—an average of $3,000 each—in Bell System securities. The workers have invested their effort and ability in the telephone industry. More than a hundred thousand have done both—workers who are share-holders in the telephone business.

BACK of that emblem is a telephone plant—well built, well maintained, adequate, and rendering the finest telephone service in the world.

Back of the symbol is the Bell Telephone Laboratories, birthplace of telephone invention and development.

Back of it is the Bell System headquarters organization, where nation-wide telephone experience is studied, co-ordinated, and made available to all parts of the system.

BELL owners and Bell workers are in every section of the state and nation. They are your friends, your neighbors, interested in things civic, in their government, in the telephone business.

By the service you know it best. To the encouragement of your fullest and most exacting use of that service the telephone organization devotes itself.

THE BELL TELEPHONE COMPANY OF PENNSYLVANIA

Associated with the Bell System—participating in and benefiting from the telephone research, telephone development and nation-wide telephone experience which have given America the world leadership in telephone service.

Find New Type Of Indian Mound In Pennsylvania

Archaeologists Are Exploring Mounds In Erie And Crawford Counties

BOULDERS USED IN MAKING MOUNDS

(International News Service)

HARRISBURG, Aug. 8.—Centuries before the coming of white men, mound builder Indians inhabited northwestern Pennsylvania. Living what was then a highly civilized life in mounds constructed with huge boulders, of a type never before found in this country.

The revelation of hitherto unknown Indian existence in this state was revealed today by state archaeologist Donald A. Cattow, from excavations made within the last month in Erie and Crawford counties by himself and four assistants.

The work is being carried on under the direction of the state historical commission. An investigation is contemplated of all reported mound sites in a dozen western Pennsylvania counties by fall.

Six mounds have been opened and charted by the party to date, Cattow said, two of them in Concord Township near Corry, and four near Spartansburg, Crawford county. All of them are similar and of the boulder construction type never before reported in America.

Built On Hills

Six to eight feet high, the mounds average 25 feet in diameter. They were built with huge boulders from one to three feet in diameter, many of them taxing the strength of three men. The mounds all are on the highest ground in the section and indications are present that the mound builders dragged or rolled the stones many miles up hill. The majority of the boulders were found to contain fossil formations.

Not only did the mound builders select the top of the hill for their boulder homes but they also had foresight enough to insure that each hill selected had a flowing spring.

Inside each mound was found from three to five circular burial pits made of clay, three feet each in diameter in which the searchers discovered large quantities of human bone ash and fragments of burned bone showing that the mound builders cremated their dead.

This week, the expedition is spending most of its time at the historic Drake oil well site near Titusville. Trip to the Eymont Dam and Conneaut Lake, touching Venango, Mercer, Lawrence, Butler, Armstrong and Beaver counties, will follow. The party intends then to work south into Washington, Greene, Fayette, and Somerset counties.

Joseph's Market Will Re-Open With New Furnishings

East Long Avenue Merchant Has Been In-Business For Number Of Years

Commemorating the reopening of Joseph's Market, at 13 East Long avenue, Moovid Joseph, the proprietor, is conducting a three-day food sale, Thursday, Friday and Saturday, which will be a revelation to his patrons all over the city.

The store has been completely remodeled with all the latest type of fixtures to handle and display the large stock of foodstuffs which he carries, and he will be able to conveniently serve his patrons better than ever before.

Mr. Joseph has been engaged in business on Long avenue since February 15, 1917, and during this time has built up a large patronage, who will be happy to greet him in his newly furnished store this week.

Wolves Hear About Haiti

Wolves Club Enjoys Address By Earl D. Matheson, Tuesday Night

In a most interesting manner, Earl D. Matheson, manager of Standard Brands, vividly told about the strange island of Haiti, located in the West Indies, to members of the Wolves club at their regular dinner meeting in The Castleton, on Tuesday night.

Following a delicious chicken dinner, Mr. Matheson was introduced by Secretary Sam Ross at the request of Anthony Marino, chairman of the program committee. The peculiar customs of the people of Haiti amused the gathering, as Mr. Matheson depicted them. The religious beliefs and superstitions of the inhabitants of Haiti were explained by Mr. Matheson. During his 15 months stay in Haiti, while a member of the United States Marine Corps, Mr. Matheson delved into the history of the island.

Secretary Sam Ross, who is making arrangements for a proposed tour of the Century of Progress by the Wolves club, stated that he has completed plans. The tentative date set is August 31. Because of the absence of Dr. John Palazzo, president of the organization, David Vallenzi acted in the president's capacity. Tuesday night's meeting proved one of the most interesting held in some time. Close to 25 members were present. M. S. Carpin, a former New Castle resident, now of Beaver Falls, was a special guest.

The Wolves meet again on Tuesday night, August 21.

Know when most of our clothing is actually sold? After the store is closed . . . when bridge tables are unfolded . . . when glasses clink . . . and when men relax.

New Castle men have to have something else to talk about than their jobs, their cars, their radios and their razor blades, so they tell each other about Winter's clothing service.

It just got back to us that an Adams street resident offered, in his kitchen the other night, to back us not only against New Castle . . . but the world. And are we blushing?

CONSTANTINE, Algeria, reports blood, fatal rioting between Mohammedans and Jews. More than twenty Jews were killed, many injured. An Arab mob, armed with blackjacks, revolvers and "Arab knives," invaded the city's ghetto, "setting fire to houses and dragging Jewish men, women and children into the streets, to stab and beat them."

The mob attacked houses of leading Jews on Constantine, the fighting lasting for thirty-six hours. Houses of Jews were set on fire, the inhabitants forced into the streets, shot and stabbed.

THE RIOTING was started by a report circulated among Arabs that Edwards, accused "American tragedy" slayer, made two trips to Harvey's Lake on the fatal date that Freda McKechnie, an expectant mother, was killed, the commonwealth learned Tuesday.

The second trip, according to the report told investigators by a woman whose identity was guarded, was made in the small hours of the morning shortly before daylight.

The woman, the only known person to have seen either Edwards or Miss McKechnie at the lake a week ago Monday night, told authorities she saw Edwards car about 4 a.m.

Authorities in revealing the second trip Edwards made, said they believed he returned to throw Freda's clothing into the bushes where it was found the next day after life guards had pulled the dead girl's body from the lake and Edwards had been arrested for her murder. They said they thought Edwards had rushed home after bludgeoning the girl who was "in his way" and then had found he still had her clothing in his car.

Archaeologists Are Exploring Mounds In Erie And Crawford Counties

BOULDERS USED IN MAKING MOUNDS

(International News Service) HARRISBURG, Aug. 8.—Centuries before the coming of white men, mound builder Indians inhabited n o r t h western Pennsylvania, living what was then a highly civilized life in mounds constructed with huge boulders, of a type never before found in this country.

The revelation of a hitherto unknown Indian Existence in this state was revealed today by state archaeologist Donald A. Cadzow, from excavations made within the last month in Erie and Crawford counties by himself and four assistants.

The work is being carried on under the direction of the state historical commission. An investigation is contemplated of all reported mound sites in a dozen western Pennsylvania counties by fall.

Six mounds have been opened and charted by the party to date, Cadzow said, two of them in Concord Township near Corry, and four near Spartansburg, Crawford county. All of them are similar and of the boulder construction type never before reported in America.

Built On Hills

Six to eight feet high, the mounds average 25 feet in diameter. They were built with huge boulders from one to three feet in diameter, many of them taxing the strength of three men. The mounds all are on the highest ground in the section and indications are present that the mound builders dragged or rolled the stones many miles up hill. The majority of the boulders were found to contain fossil formations.

Not only did the mound builders select the top of the hill for their boulder homes but they also had foresight enough to insure that each mound had a flowing spring.

Inside each mound was found from three to five circular burial pits made of clay, three feet each in diameter in which the searchers discovered large quantities of human bone ash and fragments of burned bone showing that the mound builders cremated their dead. This week, the expedition is spending most of its time at the historic Drake oil well site near Titusville. Trips to the Pymatuning Dam and Conneaut Lake, touching Venango, Mercer, Lawrence, Butler, Armstrong and Beaver counties, will follow. The party intends then to work south into Washington, Greene, Fayette, and Somerset counties.

Joseph's Market Will Re-Open With New Furnishings

East Long Avenue Merchant Has Been In Business For Number Of Years

Commemorating the reopening of Joseph's Market, at 13 East Long avenue, Moovid Joseph, the proprietor, is conducting a three-day food sale, Thursday, Friday and Saturday, which will be a revelation to his patrons all over the city.

The store has been completely remodeled with all the latest type of fixtures to handle and display the large stock of foodstuffs which he carries, and he will be able to conveniently serve his patrons better than ever before.

Mr. Joseph has been engaged in business on Long avenue since February 15, 1917, and during this time has built up a large patronage, who will be happy to greet him in his newly furnished store this week.

Wolves Hear About Haiti

Wolves Club Enjoys Address By Earl D. Matheson, Tuesday Night

In a most interesting manner, Earl D. Matheson, manager of Standard Brands, vividly told about the strange island of Haiti, located in the West Indies, to members of the Wolves club at their regular dinner meeting in The Castleton, on Tuesday night.

Following a delicious chicken dinner, Mr. Matheson was introduced by Secretary Sam Ross at the request of Anthony Marino, chairman of the program committee. The peculiar customs of the people of Haiti amused the gathering, as Mr. Matheson depicted them. The religious beliefs and superstitions of the inhabitants of Haiti were explained by Mr. Matheson. During his 15 month stay in Haiti, while a member of the United States Marine Corps, Mr. Matheson delved into the history of the island.

Secretary Sam Ross, who is making arrangements for a proposed tour of the Century of Progress by the Wolves club, stated that he has completed plans. The tentative date is August 31. Because of the absence of Dr. John Palazzo, president of the organization, David Vallens acted in the president's capacity. Tuesday night's meeting proved one of the most interesting held in some time. Close to 25 members were present. M. S. Carpin, a former New Castle resident, now of Beaver Falls, was a special guest.

The Wolves meet again on Tuesday night, August 21.

Employ Engineer

GROVE CITY, Aug. 8—Blair Hunt, an experienced local engineer, has been employed by council to supervise the laying of a bituminous top dressing on 15 Grove City streets. The contract for the work has been let to the Hull Re-surfacing Company of Butler. Work begins at once.

Mr. and Mrs. Henry Smith of Butler stopped for a short time with friends here Saturday, when on their way to Enon Valley to visit Mrs. Smith's daughter, Mrs. Mary Hogue, and family.

Mr. and Mrs. John Bowers and Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Weeter and daughter Donna visited Sunday with Mrs. Anna Black and Mrs. Gertrude Buquo of Zelienople.

CONSTANTINE, Algeria, reports bloody, fatal rioting between Mohammedans and Jews. More than twenty Jews were killed, many injured. An Arab mob, armed with blackjacks, revolvers and "Arab knives," invaded the city's ghetto, "setting fire to houses and dragging Jewish men, women and children into the streets, to stab and beat them."

The mob attacked houses of leading Jews of Constantine, the fighting lasting for thirty-six hours. Houses of Jews were set on fire, the inhabitants forced into the streets, shot and stabbed.

THE RIOTING was started by a report circulated among Arabs that a Jewish soldier, Elie Kalifa, a reginal tailor, entered a mosque at the prayer hour and shouted insults at the Mohammediens.

French troops called in to stop the rioting and killing suggest that commercial rivalry and jealousy had more to do with the outbreak than any religious quarrel.

THE SENATE Committee on Banking and Currency calls "shocking" and "scandalous" the investment of public money in worthless foreign bonds, recklessly bought by banks, and distributed among American investors.

THE PRESIDENT says the nation has entered "an era of building, the best kind of building—the building of great public projects for the benefit of the public and with the definite objective of building human happiness."

That is ancient building. Men have been at it since the stone age, and before. Unfortunately, you can't build "human happiness" simply by erecting better homes, although that helps. Human happiness must be built inside the human skull, that is where happiness resides, and where it must be developed.

SENATORS SHOULD remember that the United States government set the example in "scandalous" and "shocking" waste of the people's money when it lent ten thousand millions of dollars to dishonest European governments that sent able statesmen here to hoodwink our childish politicians.

MOTORS WILL want to know that one little Dionne quintuplet, Marie, has undergone an operation to remove a "blood tumor" on the right thigh. Radium was used and the infant slept through it all, but woke up and protested when the adhesive tape was removed.

All four of her sisters, Yvonne, Annette, Emilie, Cecile, also slept sweetly, while Dr. Edmund Kelly, distinguished surgeon, operated.

Nothing is too good for the little quintuplets, first that ever lived longer than a few hours.

ADOLF HITLER, eulogizing the God will

"Graciously permit us to find the right path to guarantee our people happiness and peace, and protect them from the disaster of war."

It depends largely on the German ruler, Hitler himself. Lloyd's of London would almost insure you against war, if you could guarantee that Hitler would not start it.

HITLER'S SPEECH, including his prayer that would "take over the means of production"? Would it be mobs in the streets, or perhaps an organized and armed body of union men? How would it operate?

There is no doubt that we are in for some interesting happenings after the taxpayers' money shall all have been spent, and inflation shall have run its course. It would be interesting to know just how those happenings are to "shape up."

A GIRL in San Francisco, about twenty-eight, height five feet, one inch, puzzles authorities because she cannot remember her name, or tell whence she came. There are on earth about sixteen hundred millions like her. Not one of us knows where he came from originally, or what his name was before he landed here, to be named by his father and mother.

We wear our names for a short time, three score and ten years, and then leave them. They are no more real than are the names that we give to the planets and big stars that, perhaps, have their own names. The real name of Arcturus is not Arcturus, and the real name of Tommy Smith is something else. He was not Tommy Smith before he landed here, and he will not be.

New Evidence In "American Tragedy" Brought To Light

(International News Service)

WILKES-BARRE, Pa., Aug. 8—Robert Edwards, accused "American tragedy" slayer, made two trips to Harvey's Lake on the fatal night that Freda McKechnie, an expectant mother, was killed, the community learned Tuesday.

THE second trip, according to the story told investigators by a woman whose identity was guarded, was made in the small hours of the morning shortly before daylight. The woman, the only known person to have seen either Edwards or Miss McKechnie at the lake a week ago, told authorities she saw Edwards's car about 4 a.m.

Authorities, in revealing the second trip Edwards made, said they believed he returned to throw Freda's clothing into the bushes where it was found the next day after life guards had pulled the dead girl's body from the lake and Edwards had been arrested for her murder. They said they thought Edwards had rushed home after bludgeoning the girl who was "in his way" and then had found he still had her clothing in his car.

"Where would we go? People in other counties know as much about the case as those here in Luzern."

HITLER'S SPEECH, including his prayer, was truly and interestingly eloquent. If he wrote it himself, he wrote a good speech and a good prayer. He and other Germans are justified in their statement that, if Europe does not want war, it should prove it by revising the Versailles Treaty, oppressive, unjust and cruel. If that treaty had not been what it is, there probably never would have run its course. It would be interesting to know just how those happenings are to "shape up."

Rare Plant Bursts Into Bloom At A. W. Richards Home Tuesday Evening

ELLWOOD CITY, Aug. 8.—Many people of this city and vicinity took advantage of an opportunity to see a rare plant burst into bloom last evening at the home of Mr. and Mrs. A. W. Richards on Hazel avenue.

The plant known as the night blooming cereus, a member of the cactus family, began to blossom about 8 o'clock. By 10:30 there were five beautiful and fragrant blossoms in full bloom. The blossoms came out in stages and as each began to bloom a pleasing and fragrant odor was given out. The flowers were of a white translucent color. Another blossom is expected to bloom tonight.

The plant at the Richards' home is 28 years old and always blooms annually at night.

New Castle Man Damages Car In Minor Accident

ELLWOOD CITY, Aug. 8.—Robert J. Lowry of New Castle received $25 damages to his car in a minor accident here on Monday according to his report to police.

Lowry was traveling west on Lawrence avenue between 8th and 9th streets. Just as he had come to the Willard Battery Station, a car driven by A. R. Hindmarch of Lime avenue, Ellwood City, backed out of the station and into the rear side of his car, damaging it.

Loyal Women's Class Assembles Tuesday

ELLWOOD CITY, Aug. 8.—Loyal Women's class of the First Christian church held its regular meeting on Tuesday night at the home of Mrs. Jess Ullom in Lillyville.

A dinner was served at 7 o'clock with covers laid for 18. A business meeting was then held at which plans were made for a pink tea to be held Thursday at the home of Mrs. Theodore Ter Linden in Knox Plan. An informal social time followed.

The next regular meeting of the class will be held on September 4.

Miss Eleanor Cox Weds H. M. Bradley

Ceremony Takes Place At Camp At Spruce Creek This Morning

ELLWOOD CITY, Aug. 8.—A wedding of unusual interest to many in this city occurred this morning at 8:30 at Camp Kanaseatake, Spruce Creek, when Miss Eleanor Cox of Fountain avenue became the bride of H. Morrison Bradley of California.

The marriage ceremony was performed by Rev. A. M. Stevenson, pastor of the First Presbyterian church, who is an instructor at Camp Kanaseatake.

The bride was charming in a chic ensemble of blue crepe with harmonizing yellow accessories. She wore a shoulder corsage of buds.

They were attended by Prof. and Mrs. Thomas Huey of California.

The bride is a popular member of the younger set in this city, graduating from the local high school with the class of '30 and from Indiana State Teachers college in '32 and for the past two years has been a teacher at the North Star school. Mrs. Bradley graduated from the California State Teachers college and is an instructor in the Ellwood City schools.

Immediately following the ceremony, they left on a post-nuptial trip throughout the New England states and Canada. Upon their return home they will reside in the Lundgren apartments on Crescent avenue.

Mrs. R. A. Snedden was in charge of the devotional period and Mrs. H. H. Reynolds the study hour. The subject of discussion was "The Effect of Christianity on Rural Asia." The Mystery Box Questions was in charge of Mrs. Porter.

At the close of the meeting delicious refreshments were served by the hostess and her daughter, Mrs. Dale Sprinkle of Adrian, Mich.

The next meeting of the society will take place on September 4.

New Club Has Regular Meeting

ELLWOOD CITY, Aug. 8.—Mrs. Robert McKim dispensed charming hospitality to the members of the 29-30 club when she entertained them last night at the home of her mother, Mrs. E. B. McCandless, on Orchard avenue. Mrs. William McKim of this city, and Mrs. William McCutcheon of Cincinnati, O., were special guests.

Bridge was the principal pastime of the evening with two tables in play. Miss Mary Martin won the high score award at the conclusion of the games.

Later in the evening a dainty luncheon was served by the hostess with the assistance of her mother. Miss Lydia Vogler will entertain the club in two weeks at her home on Todd avenue.

The time and place of the next meeting will be announced later.

RETURN HOME

ELLWOOD CITY, Aug. 8.—Mrs. Fannie Deemer, Mrs. J. F. Callen and Miss Martha Wehman, all of Ellport, and Miss Esther Rattigan of Butler, returned home last evening after a three weeks motor trip to Denver, Colo., a Century of Progress in Chicago and other western points of interest.

Ceremony Takes Place At

Camp At Spruce Creek This Morning

ELLWOOD CITY, Aug. 8.—A wedding of unusual interest to many in this city occurred this morning at 8:30, at Camp Kanasetake, Spruce Creek, when Miss Eleanor Cox of Fountain avenue became the bride of H. Morrison Bradley of California, Pa.

The marriage ceremony was performed by Rev. A. M. Stevenson, pastor of the First Presbyterian church, who is an instructor at Camp Kanasetake.

The bride was charming in a chieff ensemble of blue crepe with harmonizing yellow accessories. She wore a shoulder corsage of rose buds.

They were attended by Prof. and Mrs. Thomas Huey of California, Pa.

The bride is a popular member of the younger set in this city, graduating from the local high school with the class of '32 and from Indiana State Teachers college in '32 and for the past two years has been a teacher at the North Star school. Mr. Bradley graduated from the California State Teachers college and is an instructor in the Ellwood City schools.

Immediately following the ceremony, they left on a post-nuptial trip throughout the New England states and Canada. Upon their return home they will reside in the Lundgren apartments on Crescent avenue.

Mrs. R. A. Shadden was in charge of the devotional period and Mrs. H. H. Reynolds the study hour. The subject of discussion was "The Effect of Christianity on Rural Asia." The Mystery Box Questions was in charge of Mrs. Porter.

At the close of the meeting delicious refreshments were served by the hostess and her daughter, Mrs. Dale Sprinkle of Adrian, Mich.

The next meeting of the society will take place on September 4.

Police Ring Being Built

Several Boxers Who Are To Appear Friday Training Here

SPECIAL LIGHTS TO BE HUNG OVER RING

Actual construction of the ring in which probably more than a score boxers will compete against each other started today at Taggart Stadium and by Friday evening the special illumination system which will be suspended above the ring will have been put in complete working order for the Police boxing show, according to Chief of Police J. F. Hagen.

The ring was moved to the field yesterday and set directly in front of the middle section of the concrete seats. The floor of the ring will be heavily padded, the ropes wrapped and it is expected that everything will be in readiness for the spectacularistic entertainment long before the bell rings at 8:15 p. m. Friday.

With the night of the Amateur Athletic union scraps growing close the demand for reservations had leaped steadily and most of the choice seats will have been snapped up before 24 hours pass. The ring-side section will contain 700 seats, the 75 cent section 2,000 seats and approximately the same number of seats will be in the 50 cents section.

No difference where one sits he will be able to see good. The big floodlights will augment the special ring-side lights and when the time-keeper taps the bell there will be action for about two hours. The same system of no delays which has featured boxing here in the past will be in evidence Friday night according to Matchmaker Ed Fritz.

Persons who want to see some of the gladiators train can do so on Thursday afternoon either here or at Ellwood City. Custy Morini trained with Ray Gray and Tony Adamo at the Jefferson A. C., East Washington street and Joey Evans belted with Paul and Mike Kraynak at Ellwood City. Sammy Crockett is working out with a staff of training partners at Dimes gymnasium.

The itinerary of the scrappers is a several miles jaunt each morning on the road after which they return, plunge into the showers, partake of a light dinner and at two o'clock hop into the different gymnasium. Indian club swinging, dumb bell exercises, rope skipping, shadow boxing, chest machine pulling, and wrestling are part of the boxers' daily workout.

Classy Battles

Tuesday afternoon Mako Crockett who comes from Utica, N. Y., boxed six rounds. He showed a lot of speed and his eye for distance was very keen. He whipped over left crosses, hooked good and his right uppercut to his training partner's chin carried force.

Evans Worked Out

Evans worked out with the Kraynaks at Ellwood City. He unloosened all the power he holds in his right hand and according to his trainer, Dave Helmer he will be in the pink of condition when he crawls into the ring to meet Crockett.

Moore Is probably the best lightweight in this section and as he is due to box a good for Friday night is rounding into fine fettle. He defeated Ray Atkinson here and he does not want a defeat to mar his record before he takes on the classy Billy Suce, August 14, at Farrell.

Paul Kraynak, Ellwood lad who was runner-up to Al Quall, in the Pittsburgh boxing tourney and his brother Mike, always keep in good condition. Paul is listed to battle with Tony Cerra, the rugged Farrell Italian and brother Michael will take on the hard-hitting Tony Adams of this city.

These are only a few of the bouts on the card and fans who like little baby-sized fighters like Mickey Cune and Lew Tamler will get their appetites appeased. All of the boxers are anxious to demonstrate their best ability at the show which is for the purpose of getting police equipment.

Young Corbett Is Favored To Win

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 8—Young Corbett, III, former welterweight champion, now fighting as a middleweight, was made a 10 to 7 favorite today to defeat Mickey Walker, claimant to the middleweight crown, in a ten-round bout here next Tuesday night.

Walker's disputed title, which he vacated to fight light heavies and heavyweights, will be at stake in the bout.

SIXTEEN DAYS CROSSING OCEAN

By MONTAGU WORTHLEY
International News Service Staff Correspondent

BRISTOL, R. I., Aug. 8.—The British challenger for the America's cup, T. O. M. Sopwith's Endeavor, finally arrived off this port after its long voyage from England, at 8 o'clock this morning. It was accompanied by the Diesel yacht Vita, its convoy.

Rube Brassier has been named manager of the Springfield Pirates of the Mid-Atlantic League. . . . Teddy Yarosz suffered an injured hand training at Conneaut Lake.

Hillsville Tops Bessemer 2 To 1

Riley Holds Slugging Bessemer Team To Two Hits In League Victory

Hillsville topped the Bessemer team, 2 to 1, last night at the Bessemer field in a Lawrence County League baseball game, with Riley occupying the star role, holding the slugging Bessemer to two hits. Word on the hill for the Bessemer, allowed nine hits and fanned nine.

The victory was an upset in leading circles. J. Marshall and Benson hit for extra bases. The Hillsvillians scored their winning runs in the second inning, with Benson scoring their lone tally in the same inning.

The summary: Hillsville 2, Bessemer 1.

THE SPORT PATROL

* * * * *

By JOHN J. MAKER, JR.

BASEBALL LEADERS

Let's look over some of the 1933 records and then see how the champions are performing during the present race. Cantwell, Grove, Klein, and a few others have taken sudden drops but the majority of 1933 leaders are again around to the top.

The leading batsmen last year were Chuck Klein and Jimmy Foxx. Jimmy is being paced this season by several players but is still within the first six. In the National League, Bill Terry and Paul Waner are battling for the lead, while Klein is 40 points below his 1933 mark.

Lou Gehrig and Pepper Martin made the most runs in 1933, but Gehring and Terry are the current topnotchers. Lou is in fourth place, but Pepper has been shoved away down. He has been out of many games due to injuries.

The leaders in runs batted in, Klein, will hardly be able to repeat this season. Klein is 31 runs behind Mel Ott, while Foxx needs 33 to catch Lou Gehrig.

Klein and Heinie Manush had the most hits last year. Bill Terry and Paul Waner are battling for the National honors now, but Manush again leads the junior loop.

The home run kings, Jimmy Foxx and Chuck Klein, are receiving competition this year from Gehrig, Johnson, Ott, Berger and others, with Ott and Gehrig leading at present. The lively ball has resulted in the hottest home run race the National league has seen in years.

Ben Cantwell and Bob Grove were the leading pitchers in won and lost percentages, but both are certain to be supplanted during 1934. Dizzy Dean and Lefty Gomez are out in front now and it isn't likely that anyone will catch them.

Dean and Tommy Bridges are whiffing the most batsmen with Mungo Gomez, Rowe and Pearson not far behind. Dean and Gomez were the 1933 leaders with 198 and 163 strikeouts respectively.

Carl Hubbell and Monte Pearson had the best earned run average for the 1933 campaign. Hubbell's mark of 1.66 was the best for the National league since Grover Alexander let down the opposition with 1.55 in 1916. Pearson was closely followed in the American league by his team-mate, Mel Harder. All three of these hurlers are among the leaders again this season.

Grove, Crowley and Hubbell won the most games last year, but the current honors will probably go to Dizzy Dean and Gomez. Dizzy is out to grab 30 games and has a good chance to succeed.

The club batting leaders of last year were Washington and Pittsburgh, but to date this season Detroit and the Phillies have been setting the pace. The Cubs and Yanks have the best fielding averages during the present race while last year the Braves and Senators led in this department.

Police Ring Being Built

Several Boxers Who Are To Appear Friday Training Here

SPECIAL LIGHTS TO BE HUNG OVER RING

Actual construction of the ring in which probably more than a score boxers will compete against each other started today at Taggart Stadium and by Friday evening the special illumination system which will be suspended above the ring will have been put in complete working order for the Police boxing show, according to Chief of Police J. F. Hagen.

The ring was moved to the field yesterday and set directly in front of the middle section of the concrete seats. The floor of the ring will be heavily padded, the ropes wrapped and it is expected that everything will be in readiness for the spectacular entertainment long before the bell rings at 8:15 p. m. Friday.

With the night of the Amateur Athletic union scraps growing close the demand for reservations had leaped steadily and most of the choice seats will have been snapped up before 24 hours pass. The ring-side section will contain 700 seats, the 75 cent section 2,000 seats and approximately the same number of seats will be in the 50 cent section.

No difference where one sits he will be able to see good. The big floodlights will augment the special ring-side lights and when the time-keeper taps the bell there will be action for about two hours. The same system of no delays which has featured boxing here in the past will be in vogue Friday night according to Matchmaker Ed Fritz.

Persons who want to see some of the gladiators train can do so on Thursday afternoon either here or at Ellwood City. Custy Morini trained with Ray Gray and Tony Adamo at the Jefferson A. C. East Washington street and Joey Evans belted with Paul and Mike Kraynak at Ellwood City. Sammy Crockett is working out with a staff of training partners at Dimes gymnasium.

The itinerary of the scrappers is a several miles jaunt each morning on the road after which they return, plunge into the showers, partake of a light dinner and at two o'clock hop into the different gymnasium. Indian club swinging, dumb bell exercises, rope skipping, shadow boxing, chest machine pulling, and wrestling are part of the boxers' daily workout.

Classy Battles

Tuesday afternoon Sammy Crockett who comes from Utica, N. Y., boxed six rounds. He showed a lot of speed and his eye for distance was very keen. He whipped over left crosses, hooked good and his right uppercut to his training partner's chin carried force.

Evans worked out with the Kraynaks at Ellwood City. He unloosened all the power he holds in his right hand and according to his trainer, Dave Heisner he will be in the pink of condition when he crawls into the ring to meet Crockett.

Morini is probably the best lightweight in this section and as he is due to box a good for Friday night is rounding into fine fettle. He defeated Ray Atkinson here and he does not want a defeat to mar his record before he takes on the classy Billy Suce, August 14, at Farrell.

Paul Kraynak, Ellwood lad who was runner-up to Al Quail, in the Pittsburgh boxing tourney and his brother Mike, always keep in good condition. Paul is listed to battle with Tony Corra, the rugged Farrell Italian and brother Michael will take on the hard-hitting Tony Adamo of this city.

These are only a few of the bouts on the card and fans who like little baby-sized fighters like Mickie Cutie and Lew Tamer will get their appetites appeased. All of the boxers are anxious to demonstrate their best ability at the show which is for the purpose of getting police equipment.

Young Corbett Is Favored To Win

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 8—Young Corbett III, former welterweight champion now fighting as a middleweight, was made a 10 to 7 favorite today to defeat Mickey Walker, claimant to the middleweight crown, in a ten-round bout here next Tuesday night.

Walker's disputed title, which he vacated to fight light heavies and heavyweights, will be at stake in the bout.

British Ship Arrives In U.S.

Famed Yacht Reaches Bristol, Rhode Island, For Trial Spins

SIXTEEN DAYS CROSSING OCEAN

By MONTAGU WORTHLEY
International News Service Staff Correspondent

BRISTOL, R. I., Aug. 8.—The British challenger for the America's cup, T. O. M. Sopwith's Endeavor, finally arrived off this port after its long voyage from England, at 8 o'clock this morning. It was accompanied by the Diesel yacht Vita, its convoy.

Work of rerigging the slippery trim looking blue hulled craft will be started at once.

The British craft took sixteen days to cross the Atlantic.

The coast guard cutter Argus, with a delegation of welcoming officials and newspapermen aboard, had put out from Newport last night to greet the challenger.

Following a suggestion from Captain Beckwith on the Endeavor, the Argus met the challenger at the America's cup buoy, nine miles southeast of Brenton lightship.

It is believed the Endeavor will be in readiness for her trial spins by the end of this week.

BASEBALL LEADERS

Let's look over some of the 1933 records and then see how the champions are performing during the present race. Cantwell, Grove, Klein and a few others have taken sudden drops but the majority of 1933 leaders are again around the top.

The leading batsmen last year were Chuck Klein and Jimmy Foxx. Jimmy is being paced this season by several players but is still within the first six. In the National league, Bill Terry and Paul Waner are battling for the lead, while Klein is 40 points below his 1933 mark.

Lou Gehrig and Pepper Martin made the most runs in 1933, but Gehrig and Terry are the current topnotchers. Lou is in fourth place, but Pepper has been shod away down. He has been out of many games due to injuries.

The leaders in runs batted in, Foxx and Klein, will hardly be able to repeat this season. Klein is 31 runs behind Mel Ott, while Foxx needs 33 to catch Lou Gehrig.

Klein and Heinie Manush had the most hits last year. Bill Terry and Paul Waner are battling for the National honors now, but Manush again leads the junior loop.

The home run kings, Jimmy Foxx and Chuck Klein, are receiving competition this year from Gehrig, Johnson, Ott, Berger and others, with Ott and Gehrig leading at present. The lively ball has resulted in the hottest home run race the National league has seen in years.

Ben Cantwell and Bob Grove were the leading pitchers in 1933 and lost percentages, but both are certain to be supplanted during 1934. Dizzy Dean and Lefty Gomez are out in front now and it isn't likely that anyone will catch them.

Dean and Tommy Bridges are whiffing the most batsmen with Mungo, Gomez, Rowe and Pearson not far behind. Dean and Gomez were the 1933 leaders with 199 and 163 strike outs respectively.

Carl Hubbell and Monte Pearson had the best earned run average for the 1933 campaign. Hubbell's mark of 1.66 was the best for the National league since Grover Alexander let down the opposition with 1.55 in 1916. Pearson was closely followed in the American league by his team-mate, Mel Harder. All three of these hurlers are among the leaders again this season.

Grove, Crowder and Hubbell won the most games last year, but the current honors will probably go to Dizzy Dean and Gomez. Dizzy is out to grab 30 games and has a good chance to succeed.

Ban Shorts On Golf Courses In New York City

Women Must Wear Skirts When Playing Golf, Is Ruling Made By Association

(International News Service)

NEW YORK, Aug. 8.—As was expected, the ruling of the Women's Metropolitan Golf association banning the wearing of shorts by fair golfers on New York courses has met with considerable opposition.

Not only from the metropolitan area, but from other sections of the country as well, have come protests against the edict of the Metropolitan association and in several instances member clubs are urged to carry their objections to the courts.

Meanwhile a canvass of the local clubs revealed that at only one of them did women golfers regularly wear shorts and that was on "ladies' day".

Mako Favored In Tennis Turney

(International News Service)

CULVER, Ind., Aug. 8—Gene Mako, Los Angeles, top seeded favorite to win the national junior tennis championship here at Culver Military academy, advanced to the third round today where he will match strokes with Billy McCoy, the Chicago star.

Mako breezed through his first opponent, Russell Shirk of Bloomington, Ill., for a 6-0, 6-0 victory.

Other seeded players in the junior division won their matches with ease. Ramsay Potter of Memphis, seed No. 2, scored over Doug Coyle of Chicago. Ernie Sutter, younger brother of the famous Clifford, had no trouble defeating Dick Tindall, Louis, in straight sets, 6-1, 6-2.

Gil Hunt of Washington, D. C., seeded No. 4, did not see action.

Harry March of Washington, D. C., No. 6 seeded, fell victim to the accurate strokes of a Massachusetts opponent, Harry Thompson, 4-6, 6-4.

The leading batsmen last year were Chuck Klein and Jimmy Foxx. Jimmy is being paced this season by several players but is still within the first six. In the National League Bill Terry and Paul Waner are battling for the lead, while Klein is 40 points below his 1933 mark.

Lou Gehrig and Pepper Martin made the most runs in 1933, but Gehrig and Terry are the current topnotchers. Lou is in fourth place, but Pepper has been shovved away down. He has been out of many games due to injuries.

The leaders in runs batted in, Foxx and Klein will hardly be able to repeat this season. Klein is 31 runs behind Mel Ott, while Foxx needs 33 to catch Lou Gehrig.

Stolen bases—Cracraft, Benson, Puromaki.

Sacrifice hit—J. Pepe.

Base on balls—Off Riley 3.

Struck out—By Nord 9.

Umpires—Irwin and Walzer.

Wonder Horse in Workout

The great Cavalcade swings down the stretch at Saratoga, N. Y., in preparation for his next race and probable victory. The English-bred champion, owned by Mrs. Isabel Dodge Sloane, has won all but one race in which he has been entered this year. That was the Preakness in which High Quest, his stablemate, nosed Cavalcade out at the wire. (Central Press)

Ban Shorts On Golf Courses In New York City

Women Must Wear Skirts When Playing Golf, Is Ruling Made By Association

(International News Service)

NEW YORK, Aug. 8.—As was expected, the ruling of the Women's Metropolitan Golf association banning the wearing of shorts by fair golfers on New York courses has met with considerable opposition.

The final match for the winners will likely be staged over the coming week end.

Smith won out on the last hole, having an advantage of 1 up with one hole to go, and clinched the victory. Had Thompson won the hole it would have gone to the 19th hole.

Meanwhile a canvass of the local clubs revealed that at only one of them did women golfers regularly wear shorts and that was on "ladies' day".

The leaders in runs batted in, Foxx and Klein, will hardly be able to repeat this season. Klein is 31 runs behind Mel Ott, while Foxx needs 33 to catch Lou Gehrig.

Stolen bases—Cracraft, Benson, Puromaki.

Sacrifice hit—J. Pepe.

Base on balls—Off Riley 3.

Struck out—By Nord 9.

Umpires—Irwin and Walzer.

Colonials Defeat National Pants

Thornton Pitches Five-Hit Game As Colonials Take Exhibition Game

Colonial A. C. baseball team won from the National Pants team, 12 to 2 in an exhibition game at Colonial field last night. Thornton on the hill for the Colonials, allowed the slugging Nationals but five hits. He whiffed seven men.

Maxwell, Glivina, Clark and Thornton did the heaviest hitting, with the latter having two doubles and a single to help win his own game. The Colonials found Morgan for 10 hits.

Heavy Tone In Stock Market

Utilities Are Firm Despite Seasonal Decline In Power Production

(International News Service)

NEW YORK, Aug. 8.—Renewed pressure on the rails and weakness in individual issues brought a heavy tone to the stock market today in a continuation of the recent reactionary tendencies.

The decline in the rails was aggravated by selling of rail bonds following reports that Chicago Great Western may not pay interest due on its bonds Sept. 1.

Union Pacific was again in supply, a point to 90. A new 1934 low, Atchison and N. Y. Central were heavy.

Corn products was again under pressure, and lost nearly 2 points to hit a new low for the year. A new weak spot was pullman, an erstwhile investment favorite, which dropped around 2 points.

The mid-week trade reviews offered little encouragement for the steel industry, and was reflected in steady pressure on the steel shares. Utilities were firm despite the more than seasonal decline in power production. The rise in railroad traffic last week was ignored.

Union Carbide was a heavy spot in the chemicals, while DuPont was lower. Motor shares were sluggish and easier. Oils were supported by the big decline in crude oil production last week.

Mining shares did little in the face of the widespread inflation rumors. Farm shares were heavy, and liquors issues were under pressure. Commodities were down on profit-taking. Trading was slow in all markets.

SOME TOMATO VINE

(International News Service) ERIE, Pa., Aug. 7.—A truck farmer near here is the proud owner of a tomato vine that has 95 tomatoes on it. They are of various sizes.

Perhaps cigarettes do generate pep. Thirty years ago the very sight of one aroused old dad to great activity.

Esso Dealers Of Two Counties Meet

Lawrence And Beaver County Men Have Meeting At Rochester

Another idol of the sports world went Hollywood Tuesday night, Aug. 7, when "Memphis Bill" Terry, first baseman and manager of the world champion New York Giants, made his screen debut in "Leadership" before an enthusiastic audience of Esso service station dealers at the Moose Hall in Rochester, Pa.

Terry proved himself as adept at facing the terrors of the motion picture camera and the microphone as he is in looking over fancy curves in the pitchers' box in the big league ball parks. If he felt nervous during the filming of his first picture, he didn't show it as he told Esso dealers how running a service station business calls for the same "Leadership" as running a championship baseball team.

The Giants' manager was applauded vigorously at the conclusion of his screen appearance.

The meeting was the most successful of its kind ever held in this area, according to H. B. Ziegler, New Castle.

More than 150 attended, including Esso dealers from Lawrence and Beaver counties. Following the Terry picture, which opened the meeting, was a short talk by W. O. Kerr, Mr. Kerr said that the primary purpose of the meeting was to show Esso dealers the feature-length talking picture, "At the Esso Sign," with a view to helping them develop new business in their communities.

"At the Esso Sign" emphasizes the importance of pleased personality in dealing with the motoring public, Mr. Kerr decided. "We expect that this picture will further improve the quality of Esso service throughout our marketing territory."

More and more, the motorist is coming to look for pleasant and efficient service at Esso stations, from Maine to Louisiana. Once the dealer recognizes the importance of giving proper service he invariably brings his service up to our standard."

The feature picture proved intensely interesting to the audience. It was the story of a typical service station dealer whose habit of overlooking obvious sales opportunities was finally overcome. The picture showed clearly the effect on his sales of improved station appearance, of improved station appearance, of service and merchandising efforts.

Many dealers expressed their appreciation to the Esso marketers for having had an opportunity to see this picture, which they voted the best that the company has ever brought to them.

Brooklyn Player Is Strangely Missing

(International News Service)

NEW YORK, Aug. 8.—Boy, page

Sherlock Holmes, Philo Vance, Elmer Queen or some other supersolver. Casey Stengel of the Brooklyn Dodgers has need of him.

Casey has a disappearing ball player on his hands.

The man in question is Jimmy Jordan, regular shortstop of the club. Stengel admitted today that Jordan was absent without leave.

"He says he's sick," said Stengel.

"Is he sick or just sick of playing ball?" some one asked Casey.

"Yes, and no, but don't bother me," replied the harassed Stengel enigmatically.

Disappearing ball players have long been familiar figures in the big leagues. Phil Douglas, Rube Waddell, Bugs Raymond and Flint Rhem are a few of the better known who occasionally wandered off the reservation without official sanction.

Frank Pierce of the Phillies pulled the last publicized walkout.

Success: Any business that makes money enough to get itself gobbled up by New York bankers.

Heat Relief Is Promised

Good News For Mid-West Citizens Suffering Sizzling Wave

STATE OF TEXAS IN GRIP OF HEAT

(International News Service)

Relief from sizzling hot weather

striking the mid-west, with record high temperatures in Kansas and

Missouri, was promised for tomorrow.

With the mercury in Kansas City, Mo., notched at 99 degrees today after Tuesday's high of 109, heat-weary residents were promised weather "not quite so warm" for tonight and Thursday. High temperatures for the Kansas-Missouri area on Tuesday included St. Joseph, Mo., 108; Concordia, Kan., 108; Wichita, Kan., 104; Carrollton, Mo., 115 and Oklahoma City, 116.

In St. Louis it was 97 degrees around noon after yesterday's high of 104.

Thousands Sweller.

Central and southern Illinois, which baked Tuesday, were promised cooler weather and showers for Thursday. The mercury climbed to 103 at Springfield this noon and 104 before night was forecast.

Iowa, with temperatures of more than 103 registered Tuesday at Lemont, Fairfield, Albia, Clarinda, Creston and Keokuk and a reading of 100 degrees today at Des Moines, was scheduled for relief late today or tomorrow.

Clear and hot weather prevailed again today in Texas, where more than 40 points reported temperatures above 100 yesterday. The Texas maximum was registered at Greenville with 106. Fort Stockton reported 104 and Temple and Seymour 102.

The mid-week trade reviews offered little encouragement for the steel industry, and was reflected in steady pressure on the steel shares. Utilities were firm despite the more than seasonal decline in power production. The rise in railroad traffic last week was ignored.

Union Carbide was a heavy spot in the chemicals, while DuPont was lower. Motor shares were sluggish and easier. Oils were supported by the big decline in crude oil production last week.

Good News For Mid-West Citizens Suffering Sizzling Wave

STATE OF TEXAS IN GRIP OF HEAT

(International News Service) Another idol of the sports world went Hollywood Tuesday night, Aug. 7, when "Memphis Bill" Terry, first baseman and manager of the world champion New York Giants, made his screen debut in "Leadership" before an enthusiastic audience of Esso service station dealers at the Moose hall in Rochester, Pa.

Terry proved himself as adept at facing the terrors of the motion picture camera and the microphone as he is in looking over fancy curves from the pitcher's box in the big league ball parks. If he felt nervous during the filming of his first picture, he didn't show it as he told Esso dealers how running a service station business calls for the same "Leadership" as running a championship baseball team.

The Giants' manager was applauded vigorously at the conclusion of his screen appearance.

The meeting was the most successful of its kind ever held in this area, according to H. B. Ziegler, New Castle, and John Boehm of New Castle. More than 150 attended, including Esso dealers from Lawrence and Beaver counties. Following the Terry picture, which opened the meeting, was a short talk by W. O. Kerr. Mr. Kerr said that the primary purpose of the meeting was to show Esso dealers the feature-length running picture, "At the Esso Sign," with a view to helping them develop a new business in their communities.

"At the Esso Sign" emphasizes the importance of a pleasant personality in dealing with the motoring public," Mr. Kerr declared. "We expect that this picture will further improve the quality of Esso service throughout our marketing territory. More and more, the motorist is coming to look for pleasant and efficient service at Esso stations, from Maine to Louisiana. Once the dealer recognizes the importance of giving proper service he invariably brings his service up to our standard."

The feature picture proved intensely interesting to the audience. It was the story of a typical service station dealer whose habit of overlooking obvious sales opportunities was finally overcome. The picture showed clearly the effect on his sales of improved station appearance, service and merchandising efforts.

Many dealers expressed their appreciation to the Esso marketers for having had an opportunity to see this picture, which they voted the best that the company has ever brought to them.

Bancroft Case Is Considered

Court Holds Charges Of Actor's First Wife Under Advisement

(International News Service) HOLLYWOOD, Aug. 8.—Plea of George Bancroft's first wife, Mrs. Edna Bancroft, for temporary alimony pending trial of her suit in which she seeks $1,000 a month separate maintenance from the he-man actor, she said had never divorced her, was taken under advisement today by Superior Judge Dudley Valentine.

"It is a very serious predicament in which Mr. Bancroft finds himself," Judge Valentine declared.

Bancroft had heard his first wife's attorney tell the court:

"I believe your honor will be able to add from the testimony of Mr. Bancroft himself that his claim that he divorced my client is ridiculous.

I believe that you will come to the conclusion that a second purported marriage never took place."

Bancroft's manner was grave as he walked from the court room with his second wife, Mrs. Octavia Bancroft, mother of his 17-year-old daughter, Georgette.

"We have proven there was no divorce," the first Mrs. Bancroft's attorney said. "Mr. Bancroft admits he was never in a court room in that connection. If the law allowed a man simply to announce that he was divorced the entire structure of marriage would be destroyed."

Brooklyn Player Is Strangely Missing

(International News Service) NEW YORK, Aug. 8.—Boy, page

Sherlock Holmes, Philo Vance, Elmer Queen or some other super-sleuth. Casey Stengel of the Brooklyn Dodgers has need of him.

Casey has a disappearing ball player on his hands.

The man in question is Jimmy Jordan, regular shortstop of the club.

Stengel admitted today that Jordan was absent without leave.

"He says he's sick," said Stengel.

"Is he sick or just sick of playing ball?" some one asked Casey.

"Yes, and no, but don't bother me," replied the harassed Stengel enigmatically.

Disappearing ball players have long been familiar figures in the big leagues. Phil Douglas, Rube Waddell, Bugs Raymond and Flint Rhem are a few of the better known who occasionally wandered off the reservation without official sanction.

Frank Pierce of the Phillies pulled the last publicized walkout.

Some Tomato Vine

Energy enough to get itself gobbed up by New York bankers.

Building permit has been issued by the city engineer's office to G. M. Marquis for the erection of a new gasoline station at the intersection of West Grant and Sampson street. The building, it is estimated, will cost $1,500. It is reported that another gasoline station is proposed for the district and will occupy the site formerly occupied by the Castle bowl.

Mid-West Drought Takes Heavy Toll

State Of Kansas Is Perhaps Hardest Hit Of All Great Mid-West States

Wheat Down To Yield Of 80,000,000 Bushels; Corn Crop Is Normal

Editor's Note:
Withered and burned crops, drooping fruit trees and starving cattle mark the course of the disastrous drought which has almost the entire mid-west in its grip. Following is a story describing the ravages of the devastating dry spell.

(International News Service)
TOPEKA, Kan., Aug. 8.—With the wheat yield now cut down to an estimated 80,000,000 bushels, the corn crop probably 50 per cent normal and a water shortage that has killed thousands of cattle, the mid-west drought has taken a gigantic toll in this section.

"The seriousness of the calamity in Kansas due to the drought is not yet realized," Governor Alfred Landon declared Tuesday.

He announced that all branches of the state government, as well as individuals, will have to undergo drastic economies in order to pull through until normal conditions return. Every county in the state is taking advantage of the federal government's drought relief agencies and from human beings to livestock loans are being obtained for food.

Intense Heat

During the height of the intense heat this summer, Kansas was the hot spot of the nation. For one week in the middle of July, according to S. D. Flora, state meteorologist, the average temperature in Kansas was higher than that of any section in the United States except Death Valley, California.

Due to the great shortage of water, cattle have died by the hundreds or have been killed to end their suffering. Many animals, fed

Newsboys Plan For Cascade Cornroast

Carriers Of The News Will Go To Park On Tuesday, August 21

Newsboys of the New Castle News will gather for a corn roast in the grove at Cascade park on Tuesday evening, August 21.

Preliminary plans for the cutting which will probably attract 200 or more home delivery boys and street salesboys were announced today. Serving on the general committee are Stewart Loveridge, Tom Vaughn, Guy Shaef and Jack Muse.

The affair, expected to commence around 5:30 in the evening, will feature swimming in the Glen pool at special rates and other athletic diversions. Archie Gordon, chef supreme, has volunteered to handle the dinner.

August 18 was set today as the final day for boys to register.

Mid-West Drought Takes Heavy Toll

State Of Kansas Is Perhaps Hardest Hit Of All Great Mid-West States

Wheat Down To Yield Of 80,000,000 Bushels; Corn Crop Is Normal

Editor's Note: Withered and burned crops, drooping fruit trees and starving cattle mark the course of the disastrous drought which has almost the entire mid-west in its grip. Following is a story describing the ravages of the devastating dry spell.

(International News Service) TOPEKA, Kan., Aug. 8.—With the Kansas wheat yield now cut down to an estimated 80,000,000 bushels, the corn crop probably 50 per cent normal and a water shortage that has killed thousands of cattle, the mid-west drought has taken a gigantic toll in this section.

The seriousness of the calamity in Kansas due to the drought is not realized," Governor Alfred Landon declared Tuesday.

He announced that all branches of the state government, as well as individuals, will have to undergo drastic economies in order to pull through until normal conditions return. Every county in the state is taking advantage of the federal government's drought relief agencies and from human beings to livestock loans are being obtained for food.

Intense Heat

During the height of the intense heat this summer, Kansas was the hot spot of the nation. For one week in the middle of July, according to S. D. Flora, state meteorologist, the average temperature in Kansas was higher than that of any section in the United States except Death Valley, California.

Due to the great shortage of water, cattle have died by the hundreds or have been killed to end their suffering. Many animals, fed wilted weeds by frantic farmers, have died from poisoning and many others were victims of eating dirt in their desperate efforts to get food in burned-up pasture lands.

Farmers in many parts of this section have been living during the summer on canned fruits and vegetables from last year's crops as they have no orchards or gardens this season. When these supplies are exhausted many will have to go on relief rolls. Officials are facing the prospect of seeing tax collections this fall drop to the lowest point in history.

Water Shortage

In nearby Missouri the shortage of water in the state has been termed "appalling" by State Relief Director Crossley.

A three-year decline in rainfall and a deficiency of 38 per cent this year has put farmers practically all over Missouri to hauling water. Two-thirds of the farmers of the section depend for their water supplies on ponds and cisterns, which have been dry for months.

Throughout Kansas and Missouri the drought has even placed its deadly hand on the region's wild life. Conservation agents report daily find many rabbits, birds and game dead and dying for want of food and water. Some consolation has been found in that insects, such as mosquitoes and chinch bugs, have been less numerous.

Newsboys Plan For Cascade Cornroast

Carriers Of The News Will Go To Park On Tuesday, August 21

Newsboys of the New Castle News will gather for a corn roast in the grove at Cascade park on Tuesday evening, August 21.

Preliminary plans for the outing which will probably attract 200 or more home delivery boys and street salesboys were announced today. Serving on the general committee are Stewart Loveridge, Tom Vaughn, Guy Shoaf and Jack Muse.

The affair, expected to commence around 5:30 in the evening, will feature swimming in the Glenn pool at special rates and other athletic diversions. Archie Gordon, chef supreme, has volunteered to handle the dinner.

August 18 was set today as the final day for boys to register.

Heavy Tone In Stock Market

Utilities Are Firm Despite Seasonal Decline In Power Production

(International News Service)

NEW YORK, Aug. 8.—Renewed pressure on the rails and weakness in individual issues brought a heavy tone to the stock market today in a continuation of the recent reactionary tendencies.

The decline in the rails was aggravated by selling of rail bonds following reports that Chicago Great Western may not pay interest due on its bonds Sept. 1.

Union Pacific was again in supply, falling a point to 90. A new 1934 low, Atchison and N. Y. Central were heavy.

Corn products was again under pressure, and lost nearly 2 points to hit a new low for the year. A new weak spot was pullman, an erstwhile investment favorite, which dropped around 2 points.

The mid-week trade reviews offered little encouragement for the steel industry, and was reflected in steady pressure on the steel shares. Utilities were firm despite the more than seasonal decline in power production. The rise in railroad traffic last week was ignored.

Union Carbide was heavy spot in the chemicals, while DuPont was lower. Motor shares were sluggish and easier. Oils were supported by the big decline in crude oil production last week.

Miners did little in the face of the widespread inflation rumors. Farm shares were heavy, and liquors issues were under pressure. Commodities were down on profit-taking. Trading was slow in all markets.

Esso Dealers Of Two Counties Meet

Lawrence And Beaver County Men Have Meeting At Rochester

Heat Relief Is Promised

Good News For Mid-West Citizens Suffering Sizzling Wave

STATE OF TEXAS IN GRIP OF HEAT

(International News Service)

Another idol of the sports world went Hollywood Tuesday night, Aug. 7, when "Memphis Bill" Terry, first baseman and manager of the world champion New York Giants, made his screen debut in "Leadership" before an enthusiastic audience of Esso service station dealers at the Moose hall in Rochester, Pa.

Terry proved himself as adept at facing the terrors of the motion picture camera and the microphone as he is in looking over fancy curves in the pitchers' box in the big league ball parks. He felt nervous during the filming of his first picture, he didn't show it as he told Esso dealers how running a service station business calls for the same "Leadership" as running a championship baseball team.

The Giants' manager was applauded vigorously at the conclusion of his screen appearance.

The meeting was the most successful of its kind ever held in this area, according to H. C. Ziegler, New Castle, and John Boehm of New Castle. More than 150 attended, including Esso dealers from Lawrence and Beaver counties. Following the Terry picture, which opened the meeting, was a short talk by W. O. Kerr, Mr. Kerr said that the primary purpose of the meeting was to show Esso dealers the feature-length talk picture, "At the Esso Sign," with a view to helping them develop new business in their communities.

"At the Esso Sign" emphasizes the importance of a pleasant personality in dealing with the motoring public, Mr. Kerr declared. "We expect that this picture will further improve the quality of Esso service throughout our marketing territory. More and more, the motorist is coming to look for pleasant and efficient service at Esso stations, from Maine to Louisiana. Once the dealer recognizes the importance of giving proper service he invariably brings his service up to our standard."

The feature picture proved intensely interesting to the audience. It was the story of a typical service station dealer whose habit of overlooking obvious sales opportunities was finally overcome. The picture showed clearly the effect on his sales of improved station appearance, service and merchandising efforts.

Many dealers expressed their appreciation to the Esso marketers for having had an opportunity to see this picture, which they voted the best that the company has ever brought to them.

HOLLYWOOD, Aug. 8.—Plea of George Bancroft's first wife, Mrs. Anna Bancroft, for temporary alimony pending trial of her suit in which she seeks $1,000 a month separate maintenance from the he-man actor she said had never divorced her was taken under advisement today by Superior Judge Dudley Valentine.

"It is a very serious predicament in which Mr. Bancroft finds himself," Judge Valentine declared.

Bancroft had heard his first wife's attorney tell the court:

"I believe your honor will be able to add from the testimony of Mr. Bancroft himself that his claim that he divorced my client is ridiculous. I believe that you will come to the conclusion that a second purported marriage never took place."

Bancroft's manner was grave as he walked from the court room with his second wife, Mrs. Octavia Bancroft, mother of his 17-year-old daughter, Georgette.

"We have proven there was no divorce," said Mrs. Bancroft's attorney.

"Mr. Bancroft admits he was never in a court room in that connection. If the law allowed a man simply to announce that he was divorced the entire structure of marriage would be destroyed."

Mid-West Drought Takes Heavy Toll

State of Kansas Is Perhaps Hardest Hit Of All Great Mid-West States

Wheat Down To Yield Of 80,000,000 Bushels; Corn Crop Is Normal

Editor's Note:
Withered and burned crops, drooping fruit trees and starving cattle mark the course of the disastrous drought which has almost the entire mid-west in its grip. Following is a story describing the ravages of the devastating dry spell.

(International News Service) TOPEKA, Kan., Aug. 8.—With the Kansas wheat yield now cut down to an estimated 80,000,000 bushels, the corn crop probably 50 per cent normal and a water shortage that has killed thousands of cattle, the mid-west drought has taken a gigantic toll in this section.

"The seriousness of the calamity in Kansas due to the drought is not yet realized," Governor Alfred Landon declared Tuesday.

He announced that all branches of the state government, as well as individuals, will have to undergo drastic economies in order to pull through until normal conditions return. Every county in the state is taking advantage of the federal government's drought relief agencies and from human beings to livestock loans are being obtained for food.

Intense Heat

During the height of the intense heat this summer, Kansas was the hot spot of the nation. For one week in the middle of July, according to S. D. Flora, state meteorologist, the average temperature in Kansas was higher than that of any section in the United States except Death Valley, California.

Due to the great shortage of water, cattle have died by the hundreds, or have been killed to end their suffering. Many animals, fed wilted weeds by frantic farmers, have died from poisoning and many others were victims of eating dirt in their desperate efforts to get food in burned-up pasture lands.

Farmers in many parts of this section have been living during the summer on canned fruits and vegetables from last year's crops as they have no orchards or gardens this season. When these supplies are exhausted many will have to go on relief rolls. Officials are facing the this fall drop to the lowest point in history.

Water Shortage

In nearby Missouri the shortage of water in the state has been termed "appalling" by State Relief Director Crossley.

A three-year decline in rainfall and a deficiency of 38 per cent this year has put farmers practically all over Missouri to hauling water. Two-thirds of the farmers of the section depend for their water supplies on ponds and cisterns, which have been dry for months.

Throughout Kansas and Missouri the drought has even placed its deadly hand on the region's wild life. Conservation agents report daily find many rabbits, birds and game dead and dying for want of food and water. Some consolation has been found in that insects, such as mosquitoes and chinch bugs, have been less numerous.

CANAL OR NO CANAL
New Castle, Pa., August 6, 1934.

Editor, The New Castle News,
New Castle, Pa.

Dear Sir:

It was with considerable satisfaction to me and doubtless many other citizens to read what Mr. George C. Large had the gumption to say about the proposed Beaver-Mahoning canal and to know that at least one man had the courage of his convictions and was unafraid to make them known even though his views may be contrary to what some interests would have the people believe to be the universal sentiment and desire of all the citizens of the district affected.

Transportation and evolution (whether you believe in evolution or not) go hand in hand. Transportation—according to Webster—"is the act of carrying, or state of being carried, from one place to another." The greatest problem of our fathers in the building of this empire of ours was the "act of carrying or being carried from one place to another" the essential men and materials that have made the United States of America the outstanding country of the world. The answer to their problem was transportation, in the beginning, by pack on their backs and slow moving beasts of burden and as their needs and desires increased and expanded they were quick to discard the unit for the more fitted and transportation and evolution traveled on hand-in-hand, without a backward glance.

Is there any sane person who believes that this wonderful country of ours would have ever been possible if we had had to dig a canal from Philadelphia to Frisco? When those empire builders of ours drove the golden spike uniting those bands of steel that joined the east with the west our greatest problem was solved and we became a united people. Could we have done so by canals? America is not Holland! Are we going into reverse and discard evolution for dissolution?

We have three of the most efficient transportation companies in the world serving the needs of the people in this district, in the most efficient and satisfactory manner possible, carrying, as they do, millions of tons of commodities in fair weather or foul, giving employment to thousands of men and paying out in wages and the purchase of materials more actual money than all the canals in America.

Do you, Mr. Business Man, want to swap those mustomers of yours for canal boatmen? Think it over.

Do you, Mr. Politician, think you are fooling us when you say "We favor the highest possible wages and working conditions for the railway men" and then use your vote and influence to subsidize a competitor? Do you, Mr. Taxpayer, realize that only by the use and misuse of your tax money will the building and maintenance of this canal be made possible?

There are six thousand people in New Castle alone who derive their living from the railroads. Do you, Mr. Business Man, want to sacrifice "a bird in the hand" for a possible "one in the bush" that you are told will be made possible by new industries if a canal is dug?

The railroads are not asking for charity or pity. They only ask for a fair chance against the unregulated, subsidized competition that has them by the throat. They ask that they be placed on a competitive basis with other forms of transportation that is fair. Remember, Mr. Taxpayer, that the railroads pay out each year for taxes alone $65,000,000—a million dollars each day, including Sundays and holidays. Every mile of track torn up simply means passing it on to some other back. Will the canal, built and maintained by your money, pay any part of this added burden?

I just want to leave another thought with you, Mr. Citizen. We railroad men are wondering if we should circulate a petition in opposition to this waste of the people's money—as we and many other good citizens see it—if we would be offered the services of a lot of innocent boys to do something that perhaps we were ashamed to do ourselves?

It might not be amiss to say a word or two to you, Mr. Railroad Man, at this time. Do you endorse the sentiments expressed by Mr. Large in his letter to The News? Or are you content to allow Nature to take its course and try for a job of flagging on a canal boat? Have you spoken to your grocer, your butcher, your political neighbor who wants your vote, how you feel about the subsidizing of your competitors with your taxes? This is not your problem alone. Many good citizens are just as vitally interested in this as you are or should be. I know for I have talked to many of them. As this problem is primarily our problem, they naturally and rightfully expect you to take the initiative and show an interest in your own welfare.

You will be agreeably surprised to know of their interest and sympathy and their desire for the truth and the indisputable facts you should be able to give them. One more fact and I leave it with you. Do you know Mr. and Mrs. School Teacher, that railroad taxes pay for the education of 600,000 school children in these United States? No railroad taxes—no jobs—are you interested?

Sir:

Having been one of the original advocates of the slack water project and having sold the idea to Hon. J. Howard Swick, I am very interested in seeing the completion of our ideas.

In Saturday's paper there appeared a letter from George C. Large, a B. & O. engineer, in which he, in a rambling way, expressed his disapproval of the project. Also in Monday's paper a letter from S. P. Moore a Peñnsy conductor, which must have been sent out by some one that is not in possession of facts.

There is no "local selfishness or pork barrel tactics" being used in any way. The railroads have charged the public excessive rates on basic commodities so that in order to meet competition of plants located at points where they are not at the mercy of the railroads, drastic means must be resorted to. Why is it necessary to charge $1.42 per ton for coal into New Castle when the haul can be made by boat for 38c per ton? The ordinary employee does not get his share of these ever-increasing rates.

We have three of the most efficient transportation companies in the world serving the needs of the people in this district, in the most efficient and satisfactory manner possible, carrying, as they do, millions of tons of commodities in fair weather or foul, giving employment to thousands of men and paying out in wages and the purchase of materials more actual money than all the canals in America.
